Machine Goes Through Open Draw In Bridge Across Appomattox River

ALL ABOARD BUS DIE IN ACCIDENT

Some Of Victims Not As Yet Identified—Bodies Are All Recovered

(International News Service)

HOPEWELL, Va., Dec. 23—The bridge across the Appomattox was back in service today, the steel aprons of its draw rattling noisly under each wheel tread.

In two different undertakers' establishments lay the bodies of 14 men and women, carried to a horrible death when a big motor bus in which they were riding ran through the open draw yesterday and came to rest in about 30 feet of water and mud on the river's bottom.

The expressions on their faces and the grotesque postures of their bodies told without need of words the suffering they must have experienced the few moments they were alive in the water-filled bus.

"They had just as much chance of

Of the thirteen detours now in existence on state highways in Pennsylvania, three are in Bucks county, just north of Philadelphia. No new detours are noted in the Detour Bulletin issued for the period ending January 2, 1936.

* * *

Considerable complaint is made by residents of the Croton district who have to use the sidewalk down Croton hill, where the new wall has been constructed. The sidewalk is very rough, and in dangerous condition when slippery.

* * *

All indications point to a nice white Christmas this year, which always makes the day seem more appropriate.

* * *

Local merchants are ready for the last Christmas rush tonight and tomorrow. It has been the biggest year for New Castle's merchants in some time.

* * *

There is a general exodus of patients from the Jameson Memorial hospital, so that those who have been sick and injured may be able to spend the holiday season at their homes. Holidays like Christmas are better than medicine, it seems, when it comes to getting sick folks well. Only a few days ago the census revealed over a hundred in the hospital. This morning it was but 75.

Beautiful Christmas lights were shining at many homes in New Castle last night, and by the time that Christmas Eve arrives, there will probably be more homes decocrated than for five or six years past.

Pa Newc notes that the Laurel boulevard Christmas tree has been nicely lighted and decorated. This is a most attractive Christmas decoration on that thoroughfare.

Grand Jury Starts Probe Of Thelma Todd's Death

By WALLACE X. RAWLES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 23. — Was Thelma Todd murdered? That question was before the grand jury today—a week from the day the body of the beautiful Hollywood film star, bleeding from the mouth, was found in her car in a garage near her "Sidewalk Cafe."

"The grand jury will look for murder," said Deputy District Attorney George Johnson, who intimated that grand juries were not interested in investigating accidental deaths or suicides. Roland West, former producer of mystery movies, and partner of Miss Todd in the cafe business, who occupied a cozy apartment above the cafe, an apartment adjoining which Miss Todd had a separate room, was to be the star witness today.

It was he who told police he had locked out Miss Todd early Sunday morning, December 15, because Miss Todd had ignored his warning to return home from a Trocardero night club party before 2 a. m.

Retiring Pennsylvania Relief Director Being Sent To Europe By President

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 23—Robert L. Johnson, retiring relief administrator for Pennsylvania, has accepted an assignment from President Roosevelt to make a first hand study of European methods of relief administration for the federal government, Gov. George H. Earle announced today.

Johnson, the governor said, will sail for Europe about the middle of January and report back to the president "as soon as possible."

Henry Home Drive Is Nearing Goal

Workers Report Total Of $6201.50 At Meeting On Saturday Afternoon

NEXT REPORTS ON FRIDAY EVENING

With a little concentrated effort upon the part of workers today and tomorrow, the Margaret L. Henry Home for Children will get its Christmas present of $9600 on Christmas eve. Reporting at the Castleton Hotel Saturday afternoon, December 21 Advance Gift workers and members of the Industrial corps reported a total large enough to bring the grand total up to $6201.50.

Due to the Christmas rush many of the workers have not yet put in their best licks for the campaign but have promised to do so. The balance remaining to be pledged is little more than $3,000, a small enough amount if all the workers do their share towards raising it.

Christmas Eve at the home this year means more than gifts of toys and clothes. It marks the night when the people of New Castle tell the youngsters whether or not the home can be operated through the coming year. Food and shelter are concerned in this year's Christmas gift and it is to be hoped that the answer will be a hearty afffirmative Tuesday night

A letter was sent to all workers today by General Chairman Roger W. Rowland asking them to be at a meeting in the Castleton Hotel on Friday evening, December 27 from 7:30 to 8:30 for reports. This extension of time will give workers who are busy before Christmas, time to get their reports completed.

MRS. REISMAN IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Sentence Suspended On Woman Who Shot Husband's Stenographer

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Etta Reisman, 35, was given a suspended sentence of six to 12 years today for the slaying of Miss Virginia Seigh, 23, her love rival.

Convicted of first degree manslaughter, Mrs. Reisman faced a possible 10 to 20-year prison term but friends came to her rescue. Touched by their pleas, Judge Charles S. Colden freed the woman under supervision of the court.

Broken-hearted over the love affair between her husband and Virginia, his secretary, Mrs. Reisman testified she accidentally shot the girl as she tried to commit suicide.

Thirty Two Extra Employes Aiding City Postal Men

DESPITE HUGE LOAD WORK WELL HANDLED

Believe Today Will Mark Peak Of Holiday Season Mail Rush

With its full quota of 32 holiday extras working side by side with the regulars, New Castle's post office today was handling with only a minimum of congestion one of the heaviest floods of Christmas mail ever to engulf the local office.

All indications were this morning and at noon that a record-breaking holiday business may be established.

None the lighter after noon, the crowd of 11th-hour mailers, bearing arm loads of Christmas greeting cards and gift parcels, taxed the postal force in all departments and compelled Postmaster Richard A. Steen to open a fourth stamp window and expand the parcel post window service.

Deluge Arrives.

Until today only half the quota of 32 extras had been at work, but today's mail deluge made necessary the entire corps.

Many postmen made their rounds with helpers and the parcel post trucks all carried extra men. One extra truck was in service.

Final Ruling On Guffey Coal Bill Early Next Year

(International News Service)

Washington, Dec. 23.—The supreme court today granted petitions for review of constitutionality of the Guffey act, setting up a "little NRA" for the bituminous coal industry.

The high court's action thus assures a final ruling on validity of the act within the next few months. The issue will first be argued orally.

A motion to advance the case for argument—probably about Feb. 1—is expected to be filed. A decision by March 1 is highly probable.

Because 50 injunction suits have been brought in attac' on the Guffey law, the department of justice joined in the appeal to the high court for an early decision.

Embraced in the case are questions both as to constitutionality of the law and the right of District of Columbia Supreme Court Judge Jesse Adkins to enjoin tax collections under the act from Nov. 1 to December 10.

Carols To Be Sung On Public Square

Plans are complete for the singing of carols on the public square Tuesday evening by the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and clubs of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Italian Press Revives European War Threats

By HUDSON HAWLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Dec. 23.—Threats of a general European war were renewed in the Italian press today as the appointment of Capt. Anthony Eden as British foreign minister, while not directly commented upon, was greeted with a significant outburst against the League of Nations.

"In the name of peace, the sanctionist nations are galloping towards intransigeance and a new European conflagration," said Piccolo, a newspaper which often expresses official views.

"Everybody can imagine what the white race and justice and civilization can gain thereby."

Unofficially, it was the general Italian belief that the appointment of Eden sounds the death knell to further attempts to a peaceful solution in Ethiopia, and Italy must now press with full vigor her military campaign there.

The foreign office would not comment, and all spokesmen were warned to "wait and see what Eden does in office."

Flood Control Projects Rushed In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 23.—Flood control projects entailing an expenditure of more than $2,000,000 and the employment of several thousand men are underway in 38 districts of the state, it was revealed today, while an additional number of similar projects, totaling nearly 100, are awaiting approval in Washington.

The Pennsylvania program, designed to curtail the state's flood menace, is one of the largest in a nation-wide WPA program, according to WPA Administrator Edward N. Jones.

The two major projects in the state program are at York and Wilkes-Barre, where $1,225,000 is being spent to harness the waters of the Codorus creek and the Susquehanna river. The Wilkes-Barre project, which is culminating 22 years of effort on the part of officials to have dikes built, a new channel cut and several hundred acres of idle marginal land filled to diver the Susquehanna river, will cost $792,945. It will employ 1,700 men for nine months.

Among the other projects were the following:

Erie county—Straighten channel at Woolen Mill bridge, Wayne township, $3,320; creek and swamp improvements, Erie, $32,818.

Three Alarms Come In As Lever Sticks

Six departments were summoned to the home of John Fulmore, 803 Moravia street, Sunday morning at 7:50, when the lever in box 83 stuck, after it had been pulled down to turn in an alarm. Three alarms followed in quick succession, and the men on the six trucks visioned a serious conflagration.

When they arrived on the scene they found only a smoking stove was the cause of the alarm. There was no damage.

Mayor Introduces Police Pension Bill

During council meeting at the city building today Mayor Charles B. Mayne introduced a bill, which if adopted, will provide pensions for police. The measure, which was prepared by Solicitor Robert White, was sent to committee for further consideration. Under act of assembly cities of the third class must provide pensions. The fund is created by an appropriation from all moneys received by the city from taxation and an assessment against wages of police.

The measure provides for a board of trustees to consist of the mayor, treasurer and two members of the police force. It does not say anything about the appropriation from moneys received from taxes but does say the pension fund shall be maintained by a monthly assessment ($3) against each memeber of the police force. All the money is to be deposited in the trust department of some bank. The fund is under the direction of trustees.

The measure states that no one can serve on the force without the consent of council after he is 70 years of age, and retirement will be set at 60 or 65 years.

The trustees shall have power to prescribe rules and regulations and limits of age and service for the voluntary or involuntary retirement from the force.

Young Milne Appears To Be Virtual Prisoner

(International News Service)

WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Dec. 23—The unsolved kidnaping of Cales J. Milne, 4th—was supplemented with further mystery today.

The 23 year old Philadelphia socciety actor and writer appeared to be a virtual prisoner in the home of his mother here.

Why he should be kept in his room when he is well enough to walk outside, why he is forbidden to talk even to his closest relatives about his abduction and why a federal agent keeps a close watch over his room nightly are a few of the unanswered phases of the bizarre case.

G-men on guard outside the Milne home, flatly refused to discuss the case, other than to say the youth, who disappeared from his home in New York a weeks ago Saturday and then was found bound and gagged and drugged with morphine, in a ditch near Doylestown, Pa., Wednesday, was in good shape physically.

Meantime from Philadelphia came a report that Philip McMahon, hotel clerk at Chester, Pa., had identified a picture of Milne as that of a guest who had registered at his hotel last Tuesday night.

Sam Baruso Is Under Arrest At Buffalo, N. Y.

Man Wanted Here In 'Numbers'' Case Is Captured In His Home Town

SHERIFF TO SECURE REQUISITION FOR HIM

Sam Baruso, wanted here for sentence in a "numbers" case, and who has led Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard a merry chase for several weeks past, is under arrest at Buffalo, N. Y., according to word received this morning from the sheriff at Buffalo.

Baruso was arrested at Youngstown, O., several weeks ago. He refused to come to New Castle and Sheriff Pritchard and District Attorney Mont L. Ailey secured requisition papers. It was thought that this would be all that would be necessary, but after a hearing before the governor of Ohio, which resulted in his honoring the requisition, Baruso put up a fight, which made it necessary for a hearing before a Youngstown magistrate.

Baruso was released under $5000 bond for this hearing, but failed to show up at the time set. Another date was fixed. Meanwhile efforts were being made to locate Baruso.

Carrigan Caught At Covington, Ky.

Sheriff Notified That Man Wanted Here For Jail Breaking Is Captured

Anthony Carrigan, who walked away from the county jail while employed about the grounds as a "trusty" last July, and for whom Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has been looking, is under arrest at Covington, Ky., according to word received from the Covington authorities this morning. When arrested Carrigan was going under the name of Emmett Snyder.

Carrigan was arrested for breaking and entering the B. and O railroad station here and other places. He was sentenced by Judge Hildebrand to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of from six months to five years. He was such a well behaved prisoner, that Sheriff Pritchard gave him odd jobs about the jail. It was while out attending to some of this work that the urge to escape became too strong and Carrigan left.

While he was in the county jail he was finger printed and photographed by an expert from state police headquarters at Butler. After his escape Sheriff Pritchard sent the finger prints and photos to different

Winter Ushered In With Sub-Zero Temperature Mark

White Christmas Is Indicated By Weather Forecast This Morning

Old King Winter with his icy blasts rode into town Sunday snorting sub-zero temperatures. Winter began officially at 1:37 Sunday afternoon, but the weather man beat him to it, and had the ground blanketed with a nice white covering for his debut.

The government thermometers at the water works showed a low mark of five below zero, but even colder figures were reported from various sections of the county, running as low as ten and twelve degrees.

A fine driving snow started falling last evening and although it snowed throughout the night, only two-tenths of an inch of snow was recorded, the minute particles being as fine as grains of sugar. These grew in size during the day.

Indications point to a nice white Christmas being enjoyed this year, the weather forecast today calling for snow, with more of the beautiful tomorrow, followed by lower temperatures.

Yesterday morning's five below mark was the coldest December temperature experienced here since December of 1919, when it fell to five and eight below zero, and colder than any time during the winter of last year, when marks of two below were registered.

Bring out the holly and evergreens, hang up the mistletoe, and listen for bells and the reindeers' hooves, out on the ice and snow. Get out the stockings and bank the fire, and turn out the kitchen light, get ready for this for he'll soon be here, he's coming on Tuesday night. And no matter your age nor your knowledge of things old Santa's a reality, and surely has something to put in our sock, some presents for you and for me. Don't tell me there isn't a Santa Claus, no matter what other folks say, he's coming for sure tomorrow night, and its cold, twenty two today.

Oklahoma Authorities Say She Will Be Prosecuted To Limit

GIRL DEFENDS HER ACT; "NOT SORRY"

(International News Service)

ANADARKO, Okla., Dec. 23—"It was cold blooded murder. Emma's perfectly rational and will be prosecuted to the limit. We don't stand for settling family quarrels with a shotgun."

So declaring, County Attorney Haskell Pugh today prepared to prosecute 18 year old Emma Willis, a pretty brunet high school sophomore.

The girl killed her father as he slept because he forbade her a date with a neighbor farm boy.

Though stoically calm concerning her admitted crime, the girl sobbed pathetically today as she awaited her court appearance. But her tears were for her mother and her brothers and sisters rather than tears of repentance.

"Not Sorry"

"I'm not sorry," she sobbed. "I'd do the same thing over again if things were as they had been. He had abused us enough. I just grabbed the gun and shot him."

Emma's mother, Mrs. I. H. Willis, substantiated the girl's story of long years of abuse at the hands of the 52-year old cotton picker.

"He was a hard tempestous man," she said. "If he thought we enjoyed something, he wouldn't let us do it. I married him nineteen years ago, but I don't see how I stood it that long."

With the thermometer hovering around the zero mark, it was a great temptation to many people to stay home from church and Sunday school, yesterday. The official record kept by U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson, at the water works, showed a mark of five below zero, the coldest of the year.

covered by one parcel post delivery, greatly reducing the delivery load through the city today. Possibilities are that the parcel post cargo today would not have been handled in its entirety had the trucks not made the delivery yesterday.

The post office lobby, roomy though it is, was crowded. Mailers pushed their way about and taxed the writing tables.

Postmaster Steen and his aides wondered as the crowd grew what would have been the condition in the city's old post office this year.

Tuesday's mailing was expected to be heavy, but not quite so heavy as day's.

Ignore Warnings.

Ignoring repeated warnings of the post office, many patrons dropped cards for California and other far-distant delivery today. Postal officials doubted that they would reach their destinations by Christmas. Most of the mail, however, was for local delivery.

In the mail workroom out back the force tugged and fought with increasing mail stacks to get them to main trains on time. Incoming mails were said to be "right on schedule" because train service was not disturbed. On Saturday and Sunday there had been slight delays.

Asked as to whether or not today might be a record-breaker, postal official, cautiously, answered "it may be but we'll see." They were of the opinion that it might establish a substantial figure because some of the past few days have been lighter than many pre-Christmas mailing days.

Postmaster Steen, Assistant Postmaster James G. Leslie and Superintendent of Mails David B. Thomas kept watch on the crowd to make sure quick service was being given. More windows were opened when a jam threatened.

At the New Castle Dry Goods store sub-station, Potsmaster Steen was notified, the sales of stamps has been extremely heavy. The volume of its holiday business has been tremendous.

The seventh ward station, as in the past, reported a heavy holiday business.

Until Christmas Day, it was announced, the postal force will be kept working at top speed to clear away the incoming mails and to dispatch outgoing shipments.

FOURTEEN DROWN AS BUS PLUNGES INTO DEEP RIVER

getting out of that bus as so many unwanted kittens, bound in a weighted bag and cast into the river," one rescuer stated.

None Escape.

Operated by G. A. Alford, 40, who was among the victims because no one inside the bus escaped drowning, the heavy vehicle is believed to have skidded on the bridge's icy surface. The bridge tender's stop signal was displayed. Some investigators also hinted the bus' brakes might have been frozen.

On board, besides the chauffeur, were seven whtie women, four Negroes and two white men. It will be quite some time before all of their bodies are identified. Some of the passengers were believed to have been enroute to desinations in the deep south for Christmas. Their identity will not be known until relatives or friends fail to hear from them and come here to view the bodies in the two private morgues.

Enroute To Raleigh.

The bus, of the Atlantic Greyhound lines, left Richmond at 8 a. m. for Raleigh, N. C., via Hopewell. It never reached this town. The bridge, the draw of which Lacey McNair operates, is located just outside of this city.

McNair had his stop signal—a white and black painted guard rail bearing a red light—lowered against traffic but he insisted that he did not see the bus.

"I heard my gate bust," he said, "and looked around just in time to see the bus topple through the draw into the water."

It required 13 hours of tedious work, performed against sharp winds and biting cold, to raise the bus. First expert divers had to go under water to fasten huge steel cables around the vehicle's hulk. Two heavy cranes, one on the bridge and one on a barge, did the hoisting.

The front of the bus was buried in the mud, in the same position it fell off the bridge, hurling the men and women passengers, many of whom were bound for a holiday with their families, up to the front in a great heap.

Dead Tumbled In Heap.

One passenger, Capt. John B. Belch, a ship captain of this city, was thrown so forcibly to the front of the bus that his body broke either the windshield or a front window. His body floated to the surface soon after the bus fell. His head and body were badly gashed.

All of the dead tumbled into a heap in the rear of the bus when it was hauled up to the surface last night. Undertakers' wagons were waiting. Each body was placed in a basket and carried to the two morgues.

All the bodies, except that of Chauffeur Alford, which was found pinned behind the wheel, were sprawled in gruesome postures on the rear seat and across other back seats.

Some had scratched and bruised hands and faces, suffered perhaps when they were flung bodily to the front of the bus when it made its fatal dive, or inflicted during their desperate attempts to break free of their water-filled tomb.

McNair had opened the draw to permit a tug and a barge to pass through.

To Start Probe.

Investigations were started by local, state and federal authorities but the first goal of the bus company is to try to identify the dead.

Six white women, a white man and two Negresses remained to be identified, five of the victims having been identified as:

Alford, the driver, whose home was in Raleigh, N. C.; Captain Belch, this city; Mrs. J. W. Massey, this city; Miss Ann Duncan, Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Ruby Matthews, Richmond, Va.

One of the victims has been tentatively identified as Mrs. J. J. Cizler, 35, of Clarendon, Va. On two pieces of baggage these names were found: Miss Elizabeth Fisher and Miss Gertrude Fisher, both of McKenney, Va.

They also proved that the automobile had not been moved since the Saturday night of the fatal party, thus tending to disprove belief of several persons they had seen Miss Todd at various places in Hollywood the night before her body was found.

Clyde Myers

Clyde Myers, aged 55 years, of Shenango township, died in the Ellwood City hospital at 9 o'clock Sunday evening after an illness of several weeks' duration.

He was born in Slippery Rock township, Lawrence county, on April 30, 1880, son of Charles and Rachel Kennedy Myers. He had passed his lifetime in this county and was a well driller by occupation.

His wife, Mrs. Ruth Wilson Myers, preceded him in death two years ago. He was a member of the Greenwood M. E. church and the M. B. A., of the Shelby Tube Company.

Surviving are two brothers, Clinton K. Myers, of Wayne township, and William Myers, of Ellwood City, and one sister, Mrs. Clara Blaine, of Hollywood, California.

The body will be at the R. L. Boyd funeral home, New Castle, until 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, when it will be removed to the Greenwood M. E. church, where funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. Charles Bell.

Mrs. Eva Shaffer Carpenter.

Mrs. Eva Shaffer Carpenter, widow of James A. Carpenter, died on Sunday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harvey L. Sherman, Brownsville, Pa., after an illness of only eleven hours, the result of a heart condition.

Mrs. Carpenter was well known in New Castle, having resided on Richelieu avenue for many years. She had also lived in Volant and more recently, in New Wilmington. Her husband preceded her in death in 1932.

She was born and raised in New Castle. Her parents were George W. and Minerva Van Horn Shaffer.

Surviving are three sons, Bert C. Fence, of New Castle, Roy C. and James M. Carptenter, of Cleveland, O., three sisters, Mrs. Harvey L. Sherman at whose home in Brownsville she died, Mrs. Harry J.Potter, of Uniontown and Mrs. Hiram G. Miller, of New Castle and one brother, Charles V. Shaffer, of New Castle. Another brother Almond R. Shaffer, died in 1930.

Also surviving are three brothers-in-laws, John, William and Harvey Carpenter,, and one sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Alcorn, all of New Castle.

The body will arrive on the Pennsylvania railroad at 4:30 p. m. today and will be removed to the Jos. S. Rice Co. Chapel, where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Dr. Norris A. White, pastor of the First M. E. church, in charge.

Friends may meet the family at the chapel tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Thomas Castello

Thomas Castello, aged 52 years, of 305 East Friendship street, died at midnight in the New Castle hospital.

He had resided in New Castle for the past thirty-five years and had been in the employ of the steel mill for a large part of that time. He was a member of the Casa Savoia and St. Vitus church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Philomena Castello, two sons, Peter and Sam, and three daughters, Mrs. Florence Caruso, Mrs. Agnes Amdio and Angeline, all at home.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Carl B. Hanna

Carl B. Hanna, aged 41 years, who resided with his brother, William R Hanna, of Englewood avenue, until 10 months ago, died at North Jackson, O., on Sunday at 6:30 p. m after eight years of illness with arthritis.

Mr. Hanna was born in New Castle on January 7, 1894, son of Arthur M. and Mary Eva Conzett Hanna, and had always lived here with the exception of five years in the Walter Reed and Edward J. Hines hospitals, and the past months of treatment at North Jackson

He enlisted for service in the World War on July 26, 1918, and was honorably discharged on May 5, 1919. He served as a city fireman for the city of New Castle 13 years, stationed with the Park avenue engine company.

Prior to going to North Jackson Mr. Hanna resided for a year with his brother on Englewood avenue. He had lived at 329 Park avenue until eight years ago.

Mr. Hanna was a member of the American Legion, Perry S. Gaston Post. He is survived by his mother, Salene W. Hanna, of New Castle; one sister, Mrs. Hazel Boyd, of New Castle; three brothers: William R. Hanna of New Castle, George C. Hanna of Tyler, Tex., and Arthur J Hanna of Abilene, Tex., and one nephew, Frank Hanna, of Tyler, Tex.

Funeral services will be conducted from the R. L. Boyd funeral home at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. R. L. Boyd is the sister of the deceased and the body has been removed to her residence, the R. L. Boyd funeral home, 208 North Jefferson street.

Ashley H. Hill.

An illness with which he has been suffering for six years was the cause of the death on Sunday evening of one of New Castle's prominent citizens, Ashley H. Hill, aged 52 years, of Sheridan avenue.

Mr. Hill had long been undergoing treatment for cardiac asthma and had, several years ago, gone to Arizona in an effort to regain his health.

He returned to New Castle, however, and was residing at the home of his father-in-law, G. N. Clark, 430 Croton avenue, at the time of his death.

Mr. Hill was born at Clarks Mills, Mercer county, on September 14, 1883, son of H. C. and Emma Bell Hill. With his parents he came to New Castle when a lad of 12 years and had lived here ever since.

For a number of years he was employed in the money order department of the U. S. postal service, and later became affiliated with the First National Bank of Lawrence county. He was made assistant treasurer of the Mahoning Trust company and served in that capacity until the company merged with the Union Trust company.

Mr. Hill was a member of the First Christian church, the Lodge of the Craft No. 433, F. & A. M., Hiram Council No. 45, Delta Royal Arch Chapter No. 170, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, and Lawrence Commandery No. 62, Knights Templar.

He led the life of an exemplary citizen and had won the respect and esteem of a large number of people.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Jessie M. Hill, and his mother, Mrs. Emma E. Hill, both of this city.

The body has been removed to the Jos. S. Rice Co. chapel where it will remain until Tuesday evening when it will be taken to the place of funeral.

Funeral services will be conducted from the G. N. Clark residence, 430 Croton avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Fleeger Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs Bertha May Fleeger were conducted at the residence on West Washington street Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was in charge.

Pallbearers were Mrs. W. D. Kelty, Mrs. A. E. Ault, Mrs. George Hockenberry, Mrs. Frank Campbell, Mrs. Cleo Tinstman and Mrs. W. G. Forrester. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

M. A. Reed Funeral

For the funeral services of Matthew A. Reed, conducted on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the residence at 539 East Long avenue was filled by a large crowd of friends.

Mr. Reed had resided in Lawrence county for practically all of his 80 years and had won an unusually large number of close friends. He had been a faithful member of the First Presbyterian church and the services in his memory yesterday were attended by many of his associates from that congregation and Sunday school.

Dr. John Jamison McIlvaine, First Presbyterian pastor, officiated in the rites. Active pallbearers were Albert B. Street, John K. Furst, William H. Aubel, John F. Ringer, Ed. E. McGill and James A. Mead. The honorary pallbearers were Carl L. Hanna, Ed. E. Seavy, Dr. C. C. Green, N. J. McCluskey C. H. Akens and Morgan J. Jones. Both active and honorory pallbearers were members of Mr. Reed's Bible class.

Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

In addition to the survivors listed in Friday' News Mr. Reed leaves one sister, Mrs. Sara Booher, of East New Castle, and one brother, William H. Reed of Hutchinson, Kan.

Joseph A. Buckner Funeral

Funeral services for Joseph A. Buckner, of Ellwood City, were conducted on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church of Wampum, with the pastor, Rev. L. L. Mathews, officiating.

Interment was made in Clinton cemetery.

The first word since is that received by the sheriff today when notified that he is under arrest at Buffalo.

Sheriff Pritchard sent the Buffalo sheriff a telegram, asking him if Baruso would come back without a requisition. The reply was that he will not. Sheriff Pritchard is now preparing to get a requisition for him through the governors of Pennsylvania and New York.

It is said that Buffalo is Baruso's home town. It was while a native of that city that he received the nickname "Buffalo Joe". Sheriff Pritchard looks upon the case as a very important one. If he succeeds in getting Baruso back for sentence, it will be a lesson to Youngstown criminals that they cannot carry on their criminal operations here and expect to escape affairs as foreign minister, was understood already to be putting the brakes on Eden.

BRITAIN MAKES PREPARATIONS FOR POSSIBLE TROUBLE

Whitehall is highly gratified with the prompt assurance by eastern Mediterranean countries of their military support—with a total army of around 800,000—for sanctions, but Britain wants to make sure that collective defense is well-organized before she rushes ahead onto the dangerous ground of increasing sanctions.

Eden's appointment to succeed Sir Samuel Hoare received a "mixed press" through most of Europe, but in Italy it aroused grave misgivings.

Not Liked By Italy.

Labelled "public enemy No. 1" in Italy, Eden is said to have a personal feud with Prime Minister Mussolini since the time they exchanged sharp words when Eden called on Il Duce to urge him to abandon his African campaign.

A firm expression of Britain's return to its pro-league stand, the appointment of Eden followed a significant visit to Premier Baldwin by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer. Chamberlain, who has been the government's spokesman several times in the last week, said "all attempts at a peaceful settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute must be considered, for the present, at an end...we must go back to the policy of sanctions."

Eden must base his foreign policy on the outline given by Baldwin in the House of Commons—collective security under the league. To curb the pro-Italian tendencies of Premier Laval of France, Eden can reiterate Baldwin's threat that "the next danger may be closer than the Mediterranean"—a reference to France's fears over Germany.

To Act In Egypt.

One of his first tasks is expected to be an attempt to ease anti-British feeling in Egypt, chiefly because of the immense strategic importance of Egypt in the Mediterranean.

Mechanization of the cavalry—which practically completes motorization of the entire army—will include the cavalry brigade now stationed in Egypt, which will be made into one armored car regiment, one motor cavalry regiment, and one cavalry light tank regiment.

Among the famous regiments to be mechanized are the king's dragoon guards, the queen's bays, the king's own Hussars, the queen's own Hussars and the queen's royal lancers.

Reuters reported from Cairo that the Egyptian army has been strengthened against the threat from Italy's Libya by orders for the retention under arms of army reservists for an additional half-year.

Youngest Foreign Minister.

Member of an aristocratic family, and known as "Europe's best-dressed diplomat", Anthony Eden, now entrusted with Britain's foreign secretaryship during the most crucial period since the war, had his mettle tested on the battlefield, where he won the military cross.

When he and Sir John Simon talked with Chancellor Hitler in Berlin over Germany's rearmament, they found that Eden and Hitler had fought in trenches directly opposite each other.

Eden is the youngest foreign minister since Earl Granville, who held the post in 1851 at the age of 36. Eden is 38.

Educated at Eton and Oxford, he entered parliament in 1923, and in 1926 became parliamentary secretary to Sir Austen Chamberlain, then foreign secretary, later becoming parliamentary undersecretary to the foreign office

He was made lord privy seal, responsible for League of Nations matters, two years ago, and this year the special cabinet post of minister of league affairs was created for him. At Geneva the moustached, camera-shy diplomat distinguished himself by his pressure for strong action against Italy, and at Rome is said to have engaged in a personal verbal clash with Premier Mussolini that makes his appointment distasteful to Italy.

FAITH

Another opening was held on Wednesday, December 18, 1935, and another crowd of people inspected the largest and most modern up-to-date funeral home in the city, at least that is what they told us.

Their was not one person who attended this opening through curiosity. Each and every one were sincere and earnest in their thorough inspection of both our funeral home and our exceptionally large display of caskets.

We again thank the business men who furnished the beautiful flowers. The lucky number for the grand prize was drawn out by Mayor Charles B. Mayne.

The prize going to Mr. Paul Lewis, 411 East Winter Avenue, to whom we extend our congratulations.

Again you must ask Mr. Paul Lewis if it does not pay to read Campbell's ad and attend Campbell's opening.

FIELD CLUB SCHEDULE FOR YULETIDE SEASON

An unusually active holiday season has been planned for New Castle Field Club members by their social committee, with a number of events being arranged that will interest all members of the family, from time to time. The young college set home for vacation, is favored with the dance programs and card parties, as well as their elders, that rounds out the club schedule.

Details have been completed for two holiday dances, the first to be held Christmas night, December 25, in the club room, the hours being from 9:30 until 12:30 o'clock. The other frolic, is dated for New Year's eve, an event that has always proven exceedingly popular. Activities begin at 10 o'clock p. m. and again, an orchestra that has been a favorite with the Field Club members, will occupy the ballroom platform. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shira, are to be in charge.

The bi-weekly bridge party, during this week, will be held Friday evening, December 27, sinstead of Thursday, the usual day. Mr. and Mrs. James B. Mathews will fill the role of hosts, with play beginning promptly at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rhoads compose the committee chairmen.

Thursday night, January 2 a new series of stag parties will be launched, this marking the first on the calendar. A special effort is being made, in working up interest in this particular club pleasure for the men. These affairs have created much enthusiasm, and it is expected that even a greater fellowship attendance, in carrying out present plans. Cards and other amusements will feature, with lunch following. James B. Matthews has been appointed to oversee all activities of this nature.

The ladies dessert bridge parties, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred B. Allen, is another item of importance on the dotted Yuletide calendar. The next event is to be held Friday afternoon, January 3, with the usual procedure to be carried out. Mrs. Louis Sandler is the appointed hostess, who will receive the women shortly after 1 o'clock.

After January, "Stunt Night Parties," under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mathews will be arranged for the entertainment of the membership. During the new club season Albert B. Street, will act as general chairman of the social committee.

SIXTY ATTEND CLASS CHRISTMAS EVENT

One of the most successful Christmas parties ever undertaken by the Married Peoples class of the Second United Presbyterian church, was held on Friday evening, December 20, in their social rooms, with sixty in attendance.

Mrs. Roy Long presented a group of girls in an especially entertaining Yuletide playlet. Those taking character parts, included Misses Maurine Smith, Betty Smith, Miriam Clinefelter, Isabel Douglass and Ruth Hanna. Other features contributed on the program, were as follows: Piano solo by Betty McChesney; recitation by Bobby McConnell; piano solo by Dorothy McConnell; vocal solo by Jean Hill; piano number by Mrs. R. P. Hill; quartet composed of Mrs. R. P. Hill, Mrs. R. S McChesney, Mrs. C. K. McGeorge and R. P. Hill. The exchange of gifts followed.

Especially picturesque was the donation of the white gift offering in a manger, arranged in a perfect setting. This was most impressively conducted by candlelight.

The serving of refreshments, concluded the evenings activities, with Mrs. Mary Beatty and her aides in charge. The decorating committee was headed by Mrs. William McCormick and the program was in charge of Mrs. C. K. McGeorge. The class will meet December 30 at the home of George Annabel, 111 North Crawford avenue, at 7:30 o'clock. Plans for the ensuing year, will be given consideration on this date.

KINGS DAUGHTER'S YULE GATHERING

The Kings Daughters class, met at the home of Martha and Lenora Black Friday, December 20, for a Christmas party. A short business period was presided over by Esther McCune, when plans were made for future activities. Carol singing and games, followed. Lunch was exchanged as a special feature of the occasion, and in concluding the evening's festivities, Dorothy Shaffer, president of the organization, presented their teacher, Mrs. Lois Hill, with a gift in behalf of the class.

December 30, was the date set aside for their next gathering, with Mrs. Hill opening her home on Wilmington avenue to the group. This affair will be in the form of a tureen supper.

Statzer To Elect

Augusta Statzer Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. will have dinner at 6:30 p. m. today in the Legion Home followed by the election of new officers.

BETH SHALOM DINNER SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

At long tables, beautifully arranged with a color theme of blue and silver, accented with lovely bouquets of fresh flowers, covers were laid for some 60 guests for the Beth Shalom Sisterhood annual congregational dinner Sunday evening.

Tall blue candles, in silver holders were placed here and there on the big tables, while on the small tables, bud vases holding individual flowers, were used as decorations. An elegant dinner was served.

Mrs. Charles Levine, president of the Sisterhood, brought greetings to the guests and the Chanukah lights were kindled by Rabbi Pinchos Katz, of the Tifereth Israel Synagogue, who also gave the invocation. The entire group sang "Rock of Ages," led by Rabbi Katz, and accompanied on the piano by Miss Dorothy Fisher.

Throughout the dinner hour, a trio of young musicians played, the group including Miss Dorothy Fisher Vincent Evanovski and Vance Dufford.

After dinner, Louis Kohn, president of Beth Shalom congregation, extended other greetings, and Rabbi Norman Diamond, of Temple Israel, spoke. Due to the inclement weather, Rabbi Shatz, of Uniontown could not be present, and in his stead, Rabbi H. Leon Shwartz, of Beth Shalom congregation, gave an interesting talk. There was pep singing previous to the benediction pronounced by Rabbi Shwartz.

Much credit for the successful event is due Mrs. Louis Kohn, who had charge of the dinner arrangements, and Mrs. A. Fisher, who handled the reservations.

KUPPLE-KARD-KLUB HAS SEASONS PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Zeigler of Temple avenue entertained as their guests Saturday evening associates of the Kupple-Kard-Klub at their annual Christmas party. An exchange of gifts featured the program of activities, which created much merriment. The early hours were pleasantly whiled away with a card contest, lovely prizes for honors being captured by Mrs. Russell Kemp, Ernest King and Weldon Zeigler.

The serving of an appetizing collation by the hostess brought this delightful affair to a close. Plans were formulated for their next regular session to take place January 4 with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest King of Thorpe street presiding as hosts at their residence.

G. G. G. CLUB GUESTS AT WAGNER HOME

Misses Frances and Ethel Wagner entertained in their Boston avenue home members of the G. G. G. club at their Yuletide party. The house was decorated extensively with the season's appointments and a beautifully decorated tree adorned the corner of the living room, about which all assembled for the exchange of gifts.

A special feature of the occasion was the presentation of a lovely gift to Mrs. Bernard Flynn, nee Ann Lowery, a bride of Thanksgiving Day, in behalf of the club. This proved a complete surprise to the honored one. Following, a period of games was in progress, prizes going to Ruth Kelly, Eleanor Lowery and Mrs. Edward Donley.

The hostesses were assisted in serving lunch by their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wagner, Yuletide appointments prevailing, with miniature Santa Claus favors marking the guests' places. Mrs. Leroy Wagner was a special guest of the occasion.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held January 3 at the home of Mrs. Edward Donley, West State street.

YULE DINNER PARTY FOR O. N. T. MEMBERS

Husbands were guests of the O. N. T. club women Saturday evening, when they entertained at their annual Christmas party, in the some of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Reed of Mt. Jackson, the occasion marking one of the most pleasant events ever held by the organization.

At 7 o'clock a delicious full course chicken dinner was served to fifteen at a table elaborately decorated in the seasons suggestions. A small tree flanked by burning tapers, graced the center. The hostess had as aides, Mrs. James McCord, and a program of informal pastimes concluded the evenings program. Sharing as special guests, were Mrs. Hattie Lusk and Dale Gailey.

Their next meeting falls due on January 15, the placed to be decided.

Acme Club

A delightful affair on a recent evening, was the gathering of Acme club members in the home of Mrs. J. W. Fullerton. A sumptuous chicken dinner was served at noon, in the spacious dining room where the tables bore out the Christmas idea. Places were arranged for 14 guests.

Christmas songs and readings and an exchange of gifts made the dinner hour a very pleasing one and greetings were read from Mrs. Jessie Fullerton, of Los Angeles, Cal., by Mrs. Curtis Kerr. Mrs. Fullerton was ably assisted by Miss Ruth Gilchrist.

After dinner, the group assembled in the living room and spent the afternoon hours with fancywork and chat. The next meeting will take place on January 16, at the home of Mrs. James Gilchrist.

S. S. Christmas Party

Fourteen members of the Sunday school class taught by Laura Bell of the Central Christian church, held a Christmas party at the home of Bertha Marie Sullivan on East Washington street, Saturday afternoon. Games were enjoyed with prizes being won by June Bliss Nelson and Thelma White. An added feature, was the singing of Christmas carols.

A handkerchief shower was given in honor of Bertha Marie Sullivan, who is leaving the first of the year for Buffalo, N. Y. to take up residence. Afterwards, gifts were exchanged, an annual observance of the club.

Lunch was served by the hostess, with her mother, Mrs. Laura Bell and Mrs. Lillian Wink.

Sixty Fifth Wedding Anniversary Observed

Neighbors, visitors, friends and acquaintances from other cities wore a path into the home of Mrs. Frank Dunlap of 206 South Walnut street on Sunday December 22. The occasion of the crowd all afternoon and evening was the 65th anniversary of the wedding of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Reck, of 210 South Walnut street.

The unusual wedding celebration was marked by a family dinner in Mrs. Dunlap's home but the service of the dinner was interrupted many times by the arrival of friends wishing the young couple well.

Mr. and Mrs. Reck were married in Alliance, O., December 22, 1870. At that time Mr. Reck was a railroader. About 33 years ago they moved to New Castle where Mr. Reck followed the trade of a carpenter, a trade which he follows even now. Both he and Mrs. Reck are active and mentally alert. Mr. Reck is a member of the Men's Bible class of Epworth M. E. and on Sunday morning he was given an ovation in the assembly of the Sunday school.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Frank Dunlap, a grand son Harley Shoaf and two great grandchildren, Harley Shoaf, Jr., and Mary Lou Shoaf.

CULTURAL PROGRAM FOR HADASSAH GROUP

A cultural and joyous afternoon was spent Saturday by Hadassah members in the Neshannock avenue home of Mrs. J. Levine, in observance of Hadassah Sabbath and the simultaneous 75th birthday occurrance of Miss Henrietta Szold, Hadassah's founder and first president.

The meeting represented just one of 300 links in a nation-wide celebration in Miss Szold's honor, who has been designated the "foremost Jewish woman of contemporary times." Miss Szold has given more than half a century of continuous and devoted service to her people, and is now engaged in one of her most important undertakings—the establishment of refugee German children in Palestine. She recently returned from Palestine, where she is making her home, to participate in festivities given for her Saturday.

In spite of the fact that the celebration day fell on the Saturday before December 25, and that the weather was stormy, a good attendance was present for the delightful afternoon's program. Rabbi Pinchos Katz, of Tifereth synagogue, led in assembly singing of Palestinian songs, followed by a splendid talk by Rabbi H. Leon Shwartz, of Beth Shalom synagogue, on Miss Szold's life, in which he brought out the influence their leader has had on Jewish womanhood.

Mrs. L. Kohn paid a lovely tribute to the honored one by bringing out further worthwhile accomplishments; Mrs. L. Groden related reminiscenses; Mrs. M. Samuel read an interpretation of the "Chanukah Menorah" and there was a rendition of the Chanukah song, "Rock of Ages," followed by the lighting of the Chanukah candles. Mrs. L. Sandler had charge of the enlightening and interesting program.

A social hour with tea was of additional interest, with these hostesses serving: Mrs. Jacob Levine, Mrs. I. Myers, Mrs. Percy Alpern, Mrs. Charles Levine, Mrs. Jennie Levin, Mrs. J. Silverman, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Mrs. Sam Wolfe, Mrs. J. Cobb.

VENISON SUPPER IS RARE TREAT

At the home of G. B. Hoagland, R. D. 5, recently, a group of friends enjoyed a venison supper which was a rare treat. In the evening, music and cards served to while away the hours.

Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoagland, son G. B. Hoagland; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bowse, Mr. and Mrs. William Joyce, daughter Mary Louise; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Axe, son Bobbie; Dr. A. Foster, Paul Moon, Mrs. Bee Layton, daughter Dana, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moon, Thelma and Gerald Moon, Mrs. S. A. Clark.

Honors Bridal Couple

Honoring the marriage of her son Anthony, and Miss Marie Ambrose, of East Lutton street, which took place Saturday, December 21, Mrs. Margaret McIltrot, of East Reynolds street, entertained a few guests in her home on Sunday at a dinner party.

Following a luscious dinner, music and games were enjoyed. The hostess was assisted in serving by her daughters, Lena and Angeline. The honored guests received a number of useful gifts. Gene Cartwright, of Pittsburgh, was a special guest.

Announce Engagement

A group of friends and relatives gathered Sunday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Testa, 616 North Cascade street, for an elegant dinner at noon when announcement was made of the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Pete Lupo, of 533 White street, McKeesport, son of Mrs. J. Lupo.

Aides were Mrs. Lupo and Evelyn Scilla. After dinner hours were spent with singing, dancing and conversation, and congratulations and best wishes were extended to the young couple.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR HARRY HESTER

Harry Hester, of the Butler road, was pleasantly surprised December 19, when friends gathered at his home in the evening to help celebrate his birthday.

Upon returning from an errand, the guest of honor was ushered into his home where hearty voices greeted him from a darkened room singing, "Happy Birthday." Dinner was served by candlelight, at 6 o'clock. A large cake with "Happy Birthday Harry" in colored icing, centered the table and the room was gaily decorated in Yuletide tones. Mrs. Hester was aided by her sister, Mary Helen, Ann and Virginia McCormick.

Cards, bingo and other games whiled away the later hours, the prizes being won by Thomas Pilner, Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Barckley. The honored guest received handsome gifts.

IDEALISM IN ACTION

FOR failure of Premier Baldwin and his cabinet properly to appraise British public sentiment, Sir Samuel Hoare, the foreign minister, resigns as scapegoat. The Laval-Hoare agreement, rewarding aggressor Italy with half of Ethiopia, is dead. The swift overthrow of the plan is a striking example of the effectiveness of aroused public sentiment, a testimonial to the fundamental strength of League of Nations ideals. The result shows that the Jubilee Year referendum in England on the league was no empty indorsement, something the statesmen seem to have assumed it was.

What has happened is a striking instance of the expression of national idealism as contrasted with the realism of diplomats. Future negotiations to end the war can scarcely be made on a basis that ignores the solemn promises of the league covenant.

How the idealism that has overwhelmed the Hoare-Laval program will be made effective remains to be seen. Can it avert the greater catastrophe of a general war that the ministers sought to avert by their proposals? Unfair to Ethiopia though these proposals were, they had for their major aim prevention of a catastrophe that would throw all Europe into chaos. Those who have revolted at London, Paris and Geneva must find a way to make their idealism effective short of going to war.

FAT JURORS

In a recent murder trial in Tennessee the defense attorney asked only one question of jurymen. "How much do you weigh?" Those weighing 175 pounds or more were seated. Most of them weighed around 200 pounds. The idea was to get a lenient verdict for the defendant. "I never saw a fat man that wasn't kindhearted," explained the lawyer.

In this case the fat men turned out to be kind-hearted toward the murderer's victim. They sternly found the accused guilty of murder in the second degree and recommended a 15-year sentence, which wasn't his idea of kindness.

A jury ought to be picked for intelligence and honesty. Justice ought to be the end sought by prosecutor and defense lawyer.

SILVER FOOLISHNESS

Silver prices have been given something of a shock of late. London has been the central mart for disposing of the metal dumped upon it by the silver-hoarding countries of the Far East. The sole attraction has been the high rates offered by the United States Treasury.

Shifting his program, Secretary Morgenthau has been buying the newly-mined silver of Mexico. What has happened? No market in London, with falling quotations in New York. In conformity with the law pushed through congress by the silverites and accepted by the president, we have been forcing prices far above actual value. The moment we withdraw active support, down they go.

Yet we find Senator Thomas making the ridiculous charge that the administration is the victim of a concentrated drive by foreign and domestic reactionary influences to discredit its policy. He recalls that by law we are obligated to purchase silver until it represents 25 per cent of our metallic monetary stocks or until the price reaches $1.29 an ounce. We have fixed and stabilized the price of gold, says he, and what we have done with gold we can do with silver.

But when we have bought all the silver we require at fictitious prices, what then? We shall have on hand a lot of metal of which we have no need whatever and which we could not sell except at a very great financial loss. There is a way of stabilizing silver, but the United States can not do it alone. When we reach the point of international monetary agreements with international stabilization of currency based on gold and silver, the world will be far better off.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CHILDREN RULE THE WORLD

The child rules the world at Christmas time. The Babe, homeless but loved born in the manger at Bethlehem, has recast the course and current of civilization.

Not to the strong, but to the weak; not to the powerful, but to the helpless; not to the grown man, but to the growing babe, turns the civilization of today with aid, strength and support. Love and mercy prove stronger, as the Christian centuries go on, than strength and brute force. Need draws the gift and the needy win help. It is not the strong who seize it or the powerful who compel.

Hospital and college, education and charity, the protection of the weak, the succor of the erring, the redemption and return of those who have wandered—all these are but the spirit of Christmas in the state, in the school and in the daily labor for others which year by year raises the world's level.

Christmas is the symbol of these things as the Babe at Bethlehem was their source and early origin. This great festival but signifies the close of years stretching back to the manger, in each of which selfishness has grown less strong and the works of love stronger.

The child rules the world now as then. Love and care for those that cannot help themselves have become the guiding principle of the daily duties of life. Christmas speaks this. Every Christmas tree is lit with this light. The great flood of presents bears this as its message. The cheer and charity of the day are fed by this love.

From the Christ-child flow all the gentle influences of the season. To children its overflowing joys first come and others share, as they, too, become as little children in the Kingdom of Christmas open and enjoyed by all, to whom the fruits of love come and from whom love flows.

Christmas begins in the home, spreads through every human relation and beneficiently reaches out to every child who has no helper and knows no shelter.

SENATOR PITTMAN thinks Japan plans to conquer the United States and the rest of the world. He says Japan will "seize the Philippines as soon as the opportunity offers." That is probable, the Philippines are in Asia.

After the Philippines Japan will take Mexico, then the west coast of the United States, according to Senator Pittman, who wants to know whether this country will withdraw within itself as Japan advances, or make a definite stand somewhere.

The west coast would give him a definite answer about that.

SENATOR PITTMAN says "once Japan gains full control of China she will be the most powerful nation in the world," and "able to carry out her dreams of conquest." Numbers do not necessarily mean power. England has 300,000,000 in India and would trade the whole lot for 1,000,000 French soldiers.

"England realizes this because of Japan's coming power. She is attempting to withdraw from the Italo-Ethiopian argument."

IT IS PLEASING to have some one interested in national defense, and fortunately there are some encouraging "ifs" and "buts."

Japan might be the most powerful nation in the world with China under her control. IF China would obey orders. There is doubt about that.

Also it must be remembered that wars are won by intelligence, not by mere eagerness for conquest.

If Japan is more intelligent than this country we might as well know it now.

At present with all our respect for Japan, her great efficiency and courage, we see in her more the reflection of western methods, and a man need not be defeated by his own reflection in the mirror.

SENATOR PITTMAN MADE one useful discovery:

"I supported the League of Nations sincerely but it has turned out to be a terrible failure, particularly in dealing with Japan."

How do other backers of the League of Nations and World Court feel now that they see how these contraptions do NOT work? How would they like to have the United States tied up with them?

TO EUROPEAN STATESMEN the danger of war now is as great as in 1914, when the German Kaiser was writing the Russian Czar "we emperors must stick together," little suspecting that all "emperors," German, Russian, Turkish, all except wise King George,

THE SONG OF THE CHRISTMAS TREE

Oho for the woods where I used to grow,
The home of the lonely owl and crow!
I spread my arms to shelter all
The creatures shy, both large and small.
I sang for joy to the friends I knew:
The sunshine, rain, and the sky so blue.
Oho for the forest! Oho for the hills!
Oho for the ripples of murmuring rills! Oho, sing I, oho!

Oho for the hall where I now hold sway,
The home of the happy children gay!
I spread my arms with gifts for all,
From father big to baby small.
I sing for joy to these hearts that glow—
Of manger bed, and the Child we know.
Oho for the holly! Oho for the light!
Oho for the mistletoe's berries so white! Oho, sing I, oho!

Dear Miss Markel—My husband and I are going to sign our Christmas cards by hand. Should we sign "Mr. and Mrs." on all of them or only on those addressed to people who call us "Mr. and Mrs."?—M M.

Answer—Regardless of the circumstances, do not sign "Mr. and Mrs."

Even to those who call you "Mr and Mrs." your signature should be "Mary and John Smith." And to your intimate friends you may sign simply "Mary and John" if you are sure they will be able to identify you. You may, however, have "Mr and Mrs." placed on cards having your names in formal engraving.

A man should never sign himself "Mr." A woman should sign "Mrs." or "Miss" on a hotel register but never in a letter.

Bankers Receive Body Blow.
R. F. C. Bids In Juicy Business.
Re-finance Great Northern Railroad.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Most of the papers have missed the terrific body blow dealt New York bankers by the Roosevelt administration.

Wall Street bankers were eager to underwrite the juiciest piece of business since the "good old days"—the $100,000,000 refinancing of the Great Northern railroad. The banking houses proposed a 5 per cent convertible bond issue with an underwriting fee of 1 per cent of the total issue and of 1 per cent in addition on all bonds taken by the bankers after subscription rights expired.

The railroad—somehow not dominated by the bankers — got up enough spunk to demur. With billions of idle credit and cash in New York banks, there was no reason for making a bankers' holiday with stockholders' money.

Thereupon Jesse F. Jones, chairman of the RFC, stepped in with the government's terms: Ten-year convertible bonds at 4 per cent, with no underwriting fee.

That saves the railroad $10,000,000 in interest alone in ten years over the bankers' plan, plus considerably more than another $1,000,000 in underwriting fee.

And the saving on the bond issue being retired (it carried a 7 per cent coupon) is $3,000,000 a year.

The anger among powerful financial interests knows no bounds. Every angle of the New Deal now is being attacked, sometimes in a subtle manner, sometimes in blasts that rock the first pages.

That single action by the RFC in regard to the Great Northern will cause unlimited sums to pour into the Republican campaign fund.

* * *

WHAT NEXT?

New York bankers ask, "What next?"

If the government can lend money at 4 per cent to a railroad and put that railroad on easy street, will the government not "gobble" up other juicy financing in order to force interest rates down?

The RFC is in a strong position. its loans are being paid back at the rate of approximately $3,000,000 a day. The securities it buys or takes as collateral it has been able to sell at a profit. In short, the government loan agency, because it does not ask so much, is making more profit than any bank.

Yet, the Roosevelt administration evidently is trying to keep out of the banking business.

Chairman Jones wrote to W. P. Kenney, president of the Great Northern:

"We have no desire to supplant your bankers, but would like to cooperate with them and the railroad to the end that railroad financing can be done at much less cost to the roads.

"I have repeatedly stated that I am as anxious as any one to get the government out of the lending business, but I have also stated that it should not get out too soon; by which I mean until money is available from private sources at fair interest rates and on fair terms."

Some of the bankers losing out on the Great Northern financing are among those who refused Chairman Jones' request that New York Central's big bank debt be funded on easier terms, while money is cheap.

The bankers roundly denounced Chairman Jones, as did some of the officers of the railroad. The railroad immediately made a large payment on its RFC loan, in order to try to get rid of "government influence".

Chairman Jones, of course, gladly took the money, but commented that it did not seem good business for a corporation to permit millions in demand notes to be held against it, at high interest.

The bankers responded with another denunciation, told the government to stop "meddling" and considered they had won.

* * *

OVERCAPITALIZATION

The system of charges or premiums for underwriting brings on a natural tendency for overcapitalization.

If railroads are starving now, if utilities companies demand high rates, if some industries must have high tariffs to "protect" them, it may be because they are capitalized over and beyond any hope of legitimate profit.

* * *

BIGGEST SHOW

The biggest show of the winter will, of course, be in Washington.

Chairman Gerald P. Nye of the munitions' investigating committee has subpenaed J. P. Morgan (and other bankers) to tell the secrets of World war financing. The hearing begins January 7.

The Republicans may be forced to nominate Nye for vice president, at least, before he finishes. He will have the spotlight.

MONEY

Would I be rich? Yes, that I would,
But not for money's sake alone,
But for the needs which I have known
Which lighten only money could.

For pretty words and tender care
Are torture when they cannot take Away anguish and the ache
Of poverty and cupboards bare.

And all the pity felt is vain
Unless it has the means to cure
The ills which others must endure
And set them back to health again.

'Tis hard to look in troubled eyes,
To gaze at want and stand aside,
And not be able to provide
The simple comforts money buys.

Today's Yesterdays—Dec. 23, 1732—Richark Arkwright was born in Preston, Lancashire, the 13th child in a poor family. He was the luckiest of all—one of the luckiest men who ever lived. Illiterate, lacking in mechanical knowledge or ability, and forced to depend upon others for guidance, he became the wealthiest and most influential commoner in England.

At 36, when he was a village barber, he was led by chance to obtain and introduce the spinning-frame. Thereoy he introduced the machine-age and the industrial revolution. Within 11 years his device had produced widespread unemployment in England and incited the first revolt against the machine, in which Arkwright's factory was destroyed.

Dec. 23, 1777—Alexander Pavlovitch was born, 24 years before he became the czar of all the Russias. He was the ruler who did most to break Napoleon's power. Tiring of power himself, he gave away his empire and all his royal trappings and became a simple peasant working for his bread. His family could never induce him to return.

Dec. 23, 1783—George Washington surrendered his commission to Congress and retired to Mount Vernon. In 10 years of fighting in the French and Indian wars and Revolution, he never suffered a scratch. And he never was on active service as a general! His highest rank was lieutenant-general.

Dec. 23, 1811—Congress abolished all internal revenue collections! No federal taxes were levied within the country again for 50 years.

Italy Sends Note On Explosive Bullets To League Of Nations

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Dec. 23.—Italy today indirectly blamed Britain for the alleged Ethiopian use of explosive bullets.

A note from Fulvio Suvich, Premier Mussolini's foreign affairs undersecretary, to the League of Nations said:

"Explosive bullets in great quantity were found in Abyssinian strongholds at Tafri-Chedema.

"These bullets were found either in boxes of ten in the ammunition depot or in belts of Vickers-Armstrong machine guns. In the belts the explosive bullets were mingled with the ordinary type.

"Tickets on the boxes showed they were delivered by Ely Brothers, Ltd., of London...I am sending photographs of the tickets, bullets, and machine guns."

Last week Suvich sent another note to the league, saying he had documentary proof of three specific instances in which Ethiopians used bullets that exploded when they hit.

Banker To Fight Prison Sentence

(International News Service)

LISBON, O., Dec. 23.—Convicted of embezzling $500, Sherman T. Herbert, former secretary of the Union Savings and Loan Company, East Liverpool, O., today prepared to carry his fight against a prison sentence of one to 10 years to the appellate court.

Herbert was tried on one charge among 65 indictments returned separately and jointly against him and G. Y. Travis, East Liverpool, president of the company. Trial of Travis will be held early in January, Prosecutor George L. Lafferty announced.

ORDER BILL PAID

Council met in city hall today and voted payment of $200.00, to Constable Frank Connors who was requested by the city of New Castle to levy on the New Castle Hardware company for rent. The firm was then sold out last week Connors original bill was $275.00, but he told council he would take take $200 and pay all the clerks who worked during the sale. Council considered his price fair and the bill was ordered paid.

Two Struck Here By Automobiles

Police Receive Reports Of Fourteen Accidents Over Week End

Two persons were knocked down by automobiles but not seriously injured, according to reports to police of traffic accidents over the week-end. Altogether there were 14 accidents, most of which were of a minor nature, according to city police.

Mrs. Bessie Hoover, R. D., reported her car struck Mrs. Irene Davis, colored, 436 West Grant street, when Mrs. Davis stepped from the curb in that thoroughfare. Mrs. Davis was taken to a doctor who said she had not been hurt seriously. The accident occurred at 6:20 p. m., December 21.

Vernon Evans reported he was driving north on Jefferson street at the north end of the Public Square when his car struck George Foster, who sells newspapers at that point. Foster walked into the side of the car, Evans said. He was taken to a doctor who said he was not severely injured. The accident occurred at 7 p. m., December 21.

emperor of India, were at that moment on the way to the junk pile, with several of "we kings" for company.

IT IS PROPOSED to organize an international army to enforce sanctions, through the League of Nations. England wants to mobolize France and six other Mediterranean powers in a military agreement against Italy while increasing her Egyptian defenses. This sounds like "Happy Days Are Here Again" for the manufacturers of armaments.

OF MORE PRESSING IMPORTANCE is this.

A lady in Miami was driving her car rapidly, her baby on the seat beside her, a loose little bundle. Red lights flashed, brakes were applied, the baby shot out of the car. Do not put children on the front seat unless you hold them. Better, never put them on the front seat.

Had the Queen of Belgium been sitting on the back seat she would not have been killed.

INTERESTING MIXTURE of old and the new, Capt. Musick, commander of the China Clipper, regularly flying the Pacific, takes with him on this trip a Santa Claus suit to surprise the children of a Pan-American Airways employe on Midway Island. It was hard enough to believe that a Santa Claus could fly over housetops, drawn by reindeer.

Who would have believed that he could fly the Pacific Ocean with presents for two small children on a microscopic island, 5,000 miles out?

Nothing is impossible. What men can imagine, they can do.

SENATOR BORAH wants a "liberal," presumably a radical Republican candidate for 1936, and is willing to take the job, or help any other real "liberal." Senator Borah, whose sincerity and ability every American admires, evidently thinks the Republicans can beat the Roosevent administration only by offering something just as "liberal" as that administration.

NEW YORK HAS its regular killings, and suicides that may be murder, Chicago reports "two more racketeers bumped off," United States murder statistics are interesting, in fact appalling, if anything could appall an easy-come, easy-go nation.

Statisticians estimate that there are now 300,000 murderers at large in America and that half a million American citizens, now living, will be murdered. Such figures should make somebody think.

Since 1900 there have been about 350,000 murders in the United States, and in the same time about 7,000 murders in England and Wales.

We have more population than England and Wales but the difference does not offset their 7,000 murders against our 350,000 murders.

PWA Employe Is Frozen To Death

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 23.—Sub-zero weather and snow-packed streets resulting from the first blasts of winter today had claimed the life of one man and caused the serious injury of three youths here.

Alex Oleson, 55, PWA employe, was found frozen to death in his shanty near Nanty Glo. Coroner Cyrus W. Davis attributed the death to exposure.

James Modica, 13, Donald Zimmerman, 14, and Francis Sutton, 15, were seriously injured when their sleds ploughed into automobiles while they were coasting.

It is very good to be left alone with the truth sometimes, to hear with all its sternness what it will say to one.—Carlyle.

COUNCIL AND SCHOOL BOARD TO GATHER IN JOINT SESSION

Called for 7:30 tonight a joint meeting between the school board and the city council will decide upon the number of assistants the new city treasurer, C. C. McKibben will have and the salaries they will be paid. No other business will be transacted by the school board.

Italian Forces Claim Victory

(International News Service)

ROME, Dec. 23.—Italy today claimed victory in a battle with 5,000 Ethiopians on the Tigre Province front.

An official announcement said the fighting was fierce, and that losses had not yet been ascertained.

While 5,000 Ethiopians involved, the battle apparently was the largest pitched battle yet fought in the Italo-Ethiopian war.

B. And O. Employes Get Christmas Pay

Special Effort Put Forth By Paymasters To Provide Cheer For Christmas

Local employes of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad received their monthly pay checks, due on December 26, on Saturday, in keeping with the policy of the company to provide a pay check for the employes before Christmas.

This arrangement entails no small effort of the part of division accounting offices, where the payrolls and paydrafts are completed then forwarded to the general auditing department at Baltimore and in turn rushed back to the various division headquarters.

This effort was much appreciated by the employes of the New Castle terminal, and was also welcomed by the local merchants.

DAVIES-JONES WEDDING EVENT CHRISTMAS EVE

Christmas Eve has been chosen by Miss Margaret D. Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew H. Davies, of 1211½ East Washington street, for her marriage to John G. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Jones, of 316 Boyles avenue.

The ceremony will be a quiet affair, at 7 o'clock, with the Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson M. Davies will serve as attendants.

Merry Mad Caps

Miss Margaret Hurst, of Young street, was the hostess to the Merry Mad Cap club members and their escorts when they gathered in her home for their Christmas party on Saturday evening.

The evening hours were spent in playing cards and various other party games. Music and dancing was also in vogue among the guests.

Later in the evening the guests gathered around a very beautifully decorated table with a color scheme of red and green appropriate to the holiday season. The color scheme was very elaborate and was even carried as far as the delicious luncheon which was served by the hostess assisted by her mother Mrs. L. M. Hurst and Mrs. William Headings of Edison avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cole of Boyles avenue were special guests present at the party.

Children Honored.

Boys and girls of the Tifereth Israel synagogue Sunday school were guests at a most successful party given by members of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood, Sunday.

During the course of the event the youngsters received Chanukah treats, Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Wolfe aiding in dispensing them. Rabbi Katz and Sunday school teachers also received treats.

Mrs. Maurice Slaven, president of the Sisterhood, has made arrangements to brighten up the Christmas spirit of youngsters confined to the New Castle hospital by dispensing treats.

W. C. Club

Members of the W. C. club, were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Ketzell on Round street, with Mrs. Olive Clark presiding as hostess. Music, chat and bingo provided the pastime, prizes going to Mrs. Patrick McDowell and Mrs. Fred Steckel. Lunch was served, with Yule tones prevailing in all details. Mrs. Mary Clark assisted the hostess, with the menu.

On January 10, the club will meet with Mrs. Mary Clark, Round street.

Pledged To Sorority

Miss Ruth Shale is home from Grove City college to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Shale, of Wallace avenue. Before coming home, Miss Shale was pledged to Sigma Delta sorority.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 3 HOST TONIGHT

Boy Scouts of three local troops, No. 5, 18 and 37, will be guests tonight of Troop 3 at the First United Presbyterian church on Clenmore boulevard at 7:30, it was announced

After a short scout session, the Rev. C. W. Johnstone, pastor of the Central Christian church will speak to the group on "Life as a Circus Man." Rev. Johnstone was formerly a "big top" performer.

Scoutmaster E. D. Houk and his boys have arranged a fine evening's program.

FRANCES WILLIARD UNION

Although the evening was cold and stormy the Christmas spirit was in vogue in the home of Mrs. H. D. Hanna and Mrs. J. C. Foster, Lincoln avenue, Friday evening, December 20, when the members of the Frances Williard W. C. T. U. gathered for the monthly business meeting and Christmas party. The union was well represented.

Mrs. Joseph H. Riley called the meeting to order at 7:30 p. m. and the group joined in singing Christmas carols, after which Mrs. C. B. Wingerd conducted the worship period in her delightful manner. She later gave a reading, entitled, "The Things I Get and the Things I Give."

After the regular routine of reports and business the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Grant Fisher who together with Mrs. Wallace was on the program for the evening.

The program of entertainment. Group singing of Christmas carols; a reading by Mrs. Howard Magill, entitled: "A Russian Legend." The remainder of the program given by Mrs. Grant Fisher included a reading of three Christmas poems entitled "A Folk Song," by Lizette Woodwertte Reese; "A Folk Song," original with Mrs. Fisher; and a Christmas carol original with Mrs. Fisher. Mrs. M. R. Newbury, Mrs. J. Etta Mathies, and Mrs. Grant Fisher concluded by singing "Silent Holy Night."

The meeting was then turned over to the hostesses, Mrs. H. D. Hanna, Mrs. J. C. Foster, Mrs. James Blackwood, who served delicious refreshments with appointments in keeping with the Christmas season.

The next monthly meeting of the Frances Willard Union will be held in the home of Mrs. H. B. Williams, 459 Neshannock avenue, on January 17, 1936.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Weir. It was reported that 12 copies of the "Syllabus in Alcohol Education" had been distributed to schools.

Plans were made for a tureen dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Nagel on Wednesday, January 15, 1936.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Nick Russo, who passed away December 23rd, 1933.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
Sadly missed by Wife and Daughter.

FATHER COUGHLIN NOT IN FAVOR OF TOWNSEND PLAN

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 23.—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, noted radio priest, today stood aligned with opponents of the Townsend old-age pension plan which would guarantee persons over 60 pensons of $200 a month.

While Rev. Coughlin, in his regular Sunday radio address, approved the principles of the Townsend plan, he asserted it was unpractical for the present until certain changes are made in the present economic order.

Be patient with knockers. Everything seems rotten to the man who isn't doing well.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP NO. 6 PARTY

Girl Scouts Troop No. 6 enjoyed a Christmas party in the city hall, Saturday morning. The meeting was opened with games, conducted by the girls. A tree was trimmed, and the troop gathered around it to sing Christmas carols. Dime gifts were exchanged, and a prize, donated by Miss Reis, was awarded to the package which was wrapped most attractively—Sara Jane Cleland's. A lunch was served, including sandwiches, punch, popcorn balls, candy and cakes.

Scribe, Joan Thompson.

CHILDREN ARE GUESTS OF Y. W.

Entertainment Given At Y. W. C. A. Sunday For Terrace Avenue Tots

A crowd of 108 youngsters from the first three grades of Terrace Avenue school were feted by the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday afternoon at a program and treat.

The youngsters and their teachers, the Misses Garnet Aey, Emma Gibbons, Esther Gibbons, Pearl Hockenberry and Mary Ramsey and their principal, Miss Ann Perry, were invited to the Y. W. C. A. for their annual event and found great pleasure in a program of plays, songs, and readings in the auditorium, over which Miss Floy Owens presided, and the period of refreshments which followed in the Green Room. Girl Reserve club members were hostesses each "adopted" a little boy or girl for the afternoon, seeing that he or she had a good time, received a portion of the refreshments and a Christmas gift.

The children, in addition to wrapped parcels, received candy canes and chocolate Santa Clauses at a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree in the parlor.

One of the program features was the reading of "The Night Before Christmas," by Marie Paluzak, of the Goodwill Graduates club. A number of other Y. M. C. A. clubs participated in carrying out the plans of the day. The building's interior was appropriately decorated in greens, attractive lamps, and red burning candles.

Expects To Bring W.P.A. Checks Back Tuesday Morning

Hoping to bring back the checks for all WPA projects in district 14 by tomorrow morning, C. C. McDermott, an employe of the Works Progress Administration, left today by automobile for Harrisburg. If he gets the checks he will leave there some time tonight and be back in the office Tuesday morning.

Whether or not all checks will be returned is problematical. On this end the offices of the WPA completed the payrolls and sent them in to Harrisburg on Friday, December 20. These rolls took care of all projects for the period ending December 19.

J. Vale Downie, director is hoping that the checks will be received. "If they are every one of them will be distributed to the men on the job on Tuesday," said he.

"We want every man out on his project on Tuesday regardless of weather. If it is too bad to work they can take care of themselves until the messenger arrives with their checks. We want the men to have their checks in time to spend some of them for Christmas."

Shoots Turkey In Downtown Section

Bird Escapes From Dealer And Flies Up On Washington Street Building

Probably the first turkey gobbler shot in the Mill and Washington street section since the days when Indians roamed this section was brought down Sunday afternoon by L. W. McConnell.

The turkey escaped from a market and flew to the top of an East Washington street business house. Patrolmen Carl Lockhart and McConnell learned of the incident.

A ladder was secured and McConnell crawled to the top of the East Washington street building and fired a revolver shot at the fowl. The bullet was fired hastily and it did not fatally wound the bird.

Instead, it flew almost a block and perched on the top of another business house. McConnell ascended to the top of a nearby building, took accurate aim, and the bullet killed the turkey gobbler.

Musical Project Will Be Launched

Unemployed Musicians Are Asked To Register With W. P. A.

All unemployed musicians in Lawrence county between the ages of 18 and 28 are asked to register in the office of the director of white collar projects for the Works Project Administration, it was announced today.

A new musical project is under way, in addition to a district orchestra, it was stated, and regardless of whether the musicians are on relief, they are asked to register. Those who have been auditioned are not required to register. Those interested can register with Edward Smith of Mr. Ely's department, either in person or by calling 4750.

LIGHT BULB SETS FIRE TO AUTOMOBILE

Sixth ward and Central firemen were summoned to the home of Ira Fields of 105 Smithfield street, at 7:15 this morning, when an electric light bulb, which had been placed beneath the hood of Mr. Fields' car to warm it up so it would start easier, broke, and set fire to the car. The damage was slight.

Christmas Program Given For Rotary

Penn Power Singers Entertain At Luncheon Today; Honor Calahan

A program of Christmas vocal music, presented by singers of the Pennsylvania Power Company, was enjoyed by members of the Rotary club at their Christmas luncheon at The Castleton today.

Clarence M. England, member of the firm's double quartet, presided as chairman.

The double quartet sang several numbers; Samuel McCleary sang a medley of Christmas carols; Dudley M. Arnold recited "The Night After Christmas", and a trio, composed of Miss Mary Fleming, Numa F. Vidal, Jr., and Mr. Arnold, also sang.

Singing in the double quartet were Mr. England, Mr. Arnold, Mr. Vidal, C. W. Irvin, Ed. Marvin, Vincent Wadlinger, Samuel McCleary and Fred Beard.

Gerald McElhaney accompanied the singers at the piano.

At the close the Rotarians joined the ensemble in singing "Jingle Bells".

A formal resolution was adopted by the Rotarians before the musical program, lauding the work of the late J. Lee Calahan, deputy regional director for the Boy Scouts of America at Philadelphia, who died suddenly last week.

"It is the sense of this club," the resolution read, in part, 'that its members have lost a friend and that scouting has lost an able and consciencious director, whose place cannot easily be filled."

Calahan was Scout executive here before going East. The Rotary club co-operated in establishing scouting here years ago.

So live that you will have no bitter regrets when the coroner sends word that the car was yours.

Midnight Mass At St. Mary's

Seasonal Music And Sermons To Bear Out Glad Tidings Of Christmas

With the customary impressive religious rites, the congregation of St. Mary's church will observe the birth of the Holy Infant nearly 2,000 years ago. Seasonal music and sermons will bear out the glad tidings of the Yuletide season.

At midnight, a solemn high mass, commemorating the Nativity of the Holy Infant, will be celebrated. The Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna, pastor of the church, will be celebrant; the Rev. Fr. William Galvin will serve as deacon, and the Rev. Fr. Watterson will act as sub-deacon. The St. Mary's Men's choir will sing a special mass for the occasion. Frank Gribben, is organist and director of the choir. The Boys' choir will sing Christmas hymns before and during the midnight mass.

On Christmas morning, the time of masses will be the same as on Sunday, namely: 7:00, 8:30, 9:45, and 11 o'clock. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow the last mass.

The interior of the church has been artistically arranged with a crib, representing the stable at Bethlehem. The church sanctuary has arranged with Christmas symbols, forming a beautiful picture. It was announced today that confessions will be heard on Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Time of masses—midnight Christmas, Christmas morning at: 7, 8:30, 9:45 and 11 o'clock.

The world must learn a new lesson. When enemy propagandists invade you, treat them as you would invading troops.

Middlesex Plans Disposal Plant

Seeks WPA Funds For New $25,000 Sewage Works, It Is Revealed

WEST MIDDLESEX, Dec. 23.—West Middlesex borough has applied for funds for the construction, under WPA, of a $25,000 sewage disposal plant, it was disclosed.

The borough will provide $10,000 and the WPA has been asked to set up $15,000 for the improvement.

Under LWD, sanitary sewer lines were laid at West Middlesex, but the lines have not been used because no disposal plant was constructed.

Since the borough has signified its intention of constructing such a plant, it is now believed that the state health department will grant permission to the borough to empty sewage into the river on a temporary basis until the plant is constructed.

If that permission is granted, the present idle sewer lines can be used, creating a revenue for the borough, which may be applied towards the municipality's share of the plant's cost, it was pointed out.

Christ Lutheran To Have Program

On December 25, in Christ Lutheran church, a special Christmas program will be presented. There will be two services in the morning, and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening Sunday school services will be conducted, at which time appropriate carols, recitations and musical selections will be contributed, as a means of observance of the season. Rev. W. R. Sommerfield, pastor, will be in charge.

Quiet Restored To Mexico City

President Cardenas Gives Assuring Message To 80,000 Workers

CALLES GIVEN COOL RECEPTION

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 23.—Quiet was restored to Mexico City today after President Lazaro M. Cardenas had assured 80,000 wildly cheering workers that the return of General Plutarco Elias Calles constituted no threat to the government, and that, in his opinion, the United States would not intervene in Mexican affairs.

"The American government will not interfere in Mexican matters because it knows that its first duty is to take care of its own affairs, and because it knows that General Plutarco Elias Calles and his friends seek only to advance their own personal interests," said Cardenas.

Less conciliatory, however, was Vincent Lombardo Toledano, a radical labor leader, who stirred the immense throng to rage when he shouted:

"Calles came here to fulfill his promises to American capitalists—North American imperialism is behind his return to Mexico."

"Death to the gringos!" the crowd screamed.

Four Senators To Accompany Body Of Senator Schall

Will Be Honorary Escort From Nation's Capital To Minneapolis

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—With his wife holding h[illegible] hand, Senator Thomas D. Schall, Minnesota's blind statesman, lost his 55-hour battle against death. He was 58.

Unconscious since he was run down by an automobile at nearby Cottage City (Md.) Thursday night, death same gently to the man who refused to permit blindness to force him to stay on the sidelines. He died at Casualty hospital at 11:31 a. m., yesterday.

Always abreast of current happenings and political affairs in bent on "doing things."

A few weeks ago it became known that he actually engaged in the sport of target practice at his Berwyn (Md.) estate and often outshot his guests.

He fired at the bull's eye by his sense of sound. He would be placed in front of the target and would not aim his rifle and fire until some one, standing back at a safe distance, would tape the center of the target with a long stick. The senator would hear the stick strike and then make his aim and shoot.

The flag atop the senate was flown at half-staff today as the senator's body lay at a funeral parlor preparatory to be taken to Minneapolis for funeral services Thursday afternoon. Four senators and two members from the house will accompany the body back to the Schall home.

PRESENT PAGEANT

The beautiful pageant, "Star of the East," was presented Sunday evening at the Methodist church to a very appreciative audience. Much credit is due Rev. and Mrs. Scott Ingersoll who worked each evening for the past week with the cast. The music was in charge of Miss Stella Hess. The annual Christmas treat was given to the Sunday school roll on Sunday morning.

Dress Catches Fire, Woman, 91, Is Dead

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Dec. 23.—Victim of burns suffered when her clothing caught fire at an open fireplace, Mrs. Louise Alshouse, 91, died today in the Beaver Valley General hospital.

She was dusting off a mantel in her home late yesterday afternoon when her dress caught fire from the open grate. Alone in the house, she ran screaming into the street, where neighbors extinguished the flames and had her removed to the hospital.

Lions Will Hold Dinner For Blind At Second Church

Blind residents from all parts of Lawrence county will gather at the Second U. P. church, County Line street, tonight at 6:30 o'clock for the annual Christmas dinner-party which the Lions club and its auxiliary, the Ladies of the Lions, sponsors for them.

After dinner there will be a program and a distribution of gifts.

Economy Battle Seen In Congress

Snell Declares Minority In Session Will Launch Battle On Issue

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The Republican minority in congress will launch an economy battle soon as congress swings into action January 3.

This was disclosed today by Rep. Bertrand H. Snell of New York, Republican house leader, on his return here to prepare for the session.

"We shall demand an end to extravagant expenditures immediately," said Snell. "It is the biggest issue of all.

"The average man is beginning to understand that the people as a whole must pay for the reckless waste of money by the administration. The people as a whole are becoming more interested in the issue every day."

The issue, Snell said, must be faced immediately after the session opens in the house because the huge annual money bills originate in that body.

With Democratic leaders planning a drive to adjourn congress in May, they hope to push appropriation bills to the forefront. House appropriation sub-committees which have been working on bills for three weeks, may present three of the 10 annual supply bills during January.

Snell has said that he believes the administration's financial record will be a paramount issue in the 1936 campaign. As support for his argument that the people are becoming aroused, he said that a taxicab driver, taking him to the capitol, raised the issue without any knowledge of his identity.

Liner Aground; Refloated And Continues Trip

(International News Service)

CAPE MAY, N. J., Dec. 23.—The United Fruit liner Iriona, which went aground on the Brandywine Flats off here last night, was refloated this morning and is proceeding toward Philadelphia under her own power.

The vessel was pulled off the flats by the coast guard cutters Mohawk and Mendota. It was undamaged.

The liner carried ten passengers and a crew of fifty.

According to coast guard officers here, both passengers and crew maintained excellent morale while the vessel was aground.

The Iriona, bearing a cargo of bananas, was bound for Philadelphia and New York from South America. It was due in Philadelphia tomorrow.

All the passengers were said to be Philadelphians.

Riots Terrorize In Venezuela

Police Proclaim Strong Measures To Be Used To Prevent Revolt

(International News Service)

PORT OF SPAIN, TRINIDAD, Dec. 23.—Riots and incendiarism terrorized Caracas, Venezuela, today following the death of General Eustoquio Gomez, cousin of the late dictator, in an alleged revolt plot, and police proclaimed that "strongest measures" would be applied to halt uprisings, according to word received here.

Five thousand persons who were exiled during the 27 years' rule of General Juan Vincente Gomez, who died last week, have poured back into Venezuela from Colombia, adding to the revolt threat.

General Eustoquio Gomez was said to have been wounded in an attempt to overthrow Provisional President Eleazar Lopez Contreras, and died in prison. He had been one of the most iron-fisted administrators under his cousin's regime.

Mobs at Caracas set fire to houses that belonged to the late dictator, it was reported here.

Youth "Bites Hand" That Feeds Him

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 23.—Oscar Colaye, 17, who claims Star Junction, W. Va., as his home, was sentenced to Pennsylvania Training School, Morganza, by Judge Carl E. Gibson. Oscar rewarded kindness by stealing articles from the home of Anna Lash, near West Brownsville.

He had been living about the dump of the Lilley coal mine when she offered him the comforts of her home. He took a suitcase, a rifle, pair of rubber boots and $15 in cash.

NEWARK POLICE IN GUN BATTLE

Frustrate Attempt Of Three Men To Kidnap Retired Gem Merchant

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 23.—Police today fought a running gun battle with three men who escaped after abandoning their automobile and a Newark diamond merchant they had forced into the car.

The gun fight started when Lieut. John Sweeny and Detectives Frank Schenck and Louis Beck saw the trio, in a car bearing New York license plates, forcing a middle aged man into the car. The officers leaped from their own car and approached the other. As they did, two men in the rear seat opened fire and the car sped off.

The officers pursued it several blocks, firing at it, then lost it in traffic. A short time later they found the car abandoned. In the rear, bound hand and foot, was William Kerr, retired gem merchant.

Classmates Bring Christmas Cheer To Edward Jones

Edward Jones, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jones, of 936 Temple avenue couldn't attend the Christmas exercises in his room at Rose avenue school this year. For the past 12 weeks he has been confined at home with illness. The only way he could share in the fun with his classmates was by their coming to his home and they did it Friday afternoon.

About 35 of the boys and girls who are classmates of his came trooping into the house about 4 o'clock Friday and for half an hour the school festivities were transferred to Master Edward's bedroom.

They brought little gifts with them and somehow while they were small the spirit of Christmas was exemplified better than it ever could be in a class room. None of the youngsters were doctors but their visit acted as a tonic to their sick comrade.

Zero Weather Too Much For Woman 81

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 23—Coroner David Hauser today was called to investigate the death of Mrs. Jeminan Jackson, 81, believed to have died as the result of near zero-temperature. The woman, attended only by her nephew after efforts to get a doctor failed, died The two had been on relief for several months.

The BEST Gift of all—a Packard!

MATCH PACKARD 120 AGAINST THE FIELD!

Hands that rock the cradle also rule the wheel, a truth recognized in the new Packard One Twenty by the careful placement of controls for your quick and easy access. But, whether the touch laid on them be dainty or firm, there is a velvety smoothness of response that makes the seat behind the wheel one of friendly dispute. Driving the car is a joy to wife or husband alike, for it has a soft ease of operation better experienced than described. One secret of its satiny control lies in the typical Packard practice of specifying a more-than-liberal use of anti-friction bearings in vital operating units. Thus, the hand and foot controls glide into swift action with a minimum of effort.

Hauptmann To Make Pardon Appeal Today

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 23.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's appeal to the New Jersey court of pardons to escape death in the electric chair the week of January 13, was to be made today.

Hauptmann, stoical as ever, was to work out the last of his answers to questions in the appeal in a conference with his attorney, C. Lloyd Fisher, this morning.

Before his application can be acted upon one way or the other, the Bronx carpenter will witness the sixth procession of doom since he entered the death house of the New Jersey state prison.

Some time before New Year's Day, Romaine Johnson, negro killer, will walk the grim "last mile" to the chair.

Hauptmann's argument before the court of pardons, it is understood, will be chiefly that evidence was suppressed by the state at the trial in Flemington and that "new evidence" has been discovered since then.

He will further contend that "mob spirit" at Flemington kept the jury from reaching a "fair" verdict and that the jurors were coerced.

He will argue that investigators for the defense were barred from his home in New York and that a "member of defense counsel" failed to carry out his wishes as to the conduct of the case.

On Court House Hill

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Fred Schmidt of this city, have been granted by the register and recorder to Martha Schmidt. Letters in the estate of Agnes A. Gibson, late of Slippery Rock township, have been granted to John L. Gibson.

In a majority of the homes of New Castle there are two voters, husband and wife, according to the records in the permanent registration bureau. They are generally registered as belonging to the same party. Not so when there are five or six voters, generally, the records show they belong to different parties.

Photographs and finger prints of criminals who are wanted in different parts of the country, are displayed on a bulletin board in the office of Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard. There are about twenty on the board now. Their descriptions show that the most of them are under 26 years of age. The oldest is 44 and the youngest 19. The bulletin board record seems to indicate that the younger generation commits a majority of the crimes.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor has just finished sending out notices to persons who have been summoned for jury duty on Monday, January 13th and Monday, January 20th. Common pleas sessions for the trial of civil cases, convene on those dates. The January 13th term will be the first to be held in 1936.

In the divorce case of Josephine A. Flynn against Edward H. Flynn, Judge R. L. Hildebrand has handed down an opinion in which he refuses the decree. The application was made on the grounds of adultery, indignities and desertion. The court finds no evidence to support the adultery charge. Neither is there any evidence warranting a divorce for indignities. As to the desertion, the libellant claims that she was asked to leave the home of respondent's parents to which she was taken after their marriage at Butler in November, 1934. While the divorce is refused on the grounds of adultery and indignities, the libel is retained in order to permit Mrs. Flynn to press her case on other charges, if she so desires.

Under the will of the late J. Crawford White, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, his property is left to his sons, Arthur White and Jay C. White and daughters, Sarah E. Weddell, Pearl W. Lyon and Lulu W. Cribbs, share and share alike. Arthur C. White and George E. Lyon, are named as executors.

The registration cards in the permanent registration bureau are now being checked with the street lists that were issued previous to the election to see if they correspond. In a number of instances it has been found that they do not, due probably to some error in the registrations. The errors are being corrected on the filing cards.

A local attorney says he can't understand how Mussolini is finding funds to finance a war in Ethiopia when Italy owes this country a war debt of $2,000,000,000. There are a lot of folks who would like to know the answer.

News Briefs From City Hall

Nine persons were arrested over the week end. Seven were charged with drunkenness and two with suspicion. Mayor Mayne discharged all of them without payment of a fine.

Patrolman D. J. Thomas and Radio Operator Wayne Sines are reported on the sick list.

There are dangerous conditions on the sidewalk between the Postoffice and South street in Jefferson street and between the Y. W. C. A. and the Wallace block in Washington street, owing to snow and slush, according to Patrolman U. G. Harper.

Scholarship Won By Betty Lou Orr

(Special To The News)

MEADVILLE, Dec. 23—One Senior high school student is eligible for a one-year scholarship at Allegheny College and another has won honorable mention as a result of their high rating in competitive scholarship examinations given to over 100 high school students this month, it is announced.

Betty Lou Orr is awarded $100 for one year by placing in the first eight who took the tests, and Sally Norris is awarded honorable mention. Miss Norris becomes eligible for the vacancy if any of the first eight withdraw.

Sunday School At St. Vitus Has Christmas Party

Close To 1,000 Youngsters Enjoy Gala Event At St. Vitus Church Hall

Echoes of gaiety resounded far off, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, when the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita and members of the St. Vitus Confraternity played Santa Claus to an energetic group of close to 1,000 youngsters, students of the St. Vitus Sunday school, at an annual Christmas party.

During the course of the event, the Rev. Fr. DeMita, pastor of the church, in a most interesting manner, related an appropriate Christmas story, which appealed to the boys and girls. He also complimented the St. Vitus Confraternity teachers for their splendid efforts. Before closing, the Rev. Fr. DeMita congratulated Superintendent Nicholas Casalandra.

The highlight of the occasion was an enjoyable Christmas program, staged under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Littier, an instructor. The program scored a decided hit. Those participating:

"Fred's Christmas," monologue—Louis DeLillo.

"A Boy's Christmas"—Frank Chirumbolo, Louis Costa, John Prioletti.

"Everybody Gets But Father"—Philip Dellaquadri.

"The First Christmas"—Carmeletta Cassella, Phyllis DeMuccio, Catherine Mastrangelo, Anthony Colello, Thomas DePolis, Louis Dibias, Virginia General, Theresa Cassella, Humbert Isabella, Ralph Annicillo, Frank Ginocchi, Sam Janacone, Joseph DeLuca, Louis Costa, Tom Spinelli, Rudolph Maicozzi, Theresa Petrilla, Edith DePolis, Mary Lamorella, John Cagnetti.

Miss Jennie Latorre and Edith DeCarbo assisted Miss Littier.

During the afternoon, the youngsters received bags filled with candy, and other goodies. The Rev. Fr. DeMita presented the teachers with a useful gift.

Real Cinderella Will Get Shoes

Some Little Girl Will Get Nice New Pair Of Shoes For Christmas

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 23.—World War veterans today sought a real life Cinderella, a little girl who lost her badly worn left shoe at their Christmas entertainment in Turtle Creek and trudged home without it in the snow.

If she is found, there will be no glittering coach, transformed from a pumpkin, with its retinue of coachmen, but there will be a shiny, brand new pair of shoes.

"Picture this baby trudging home without a shoe on one little foot," said Lloyd S. Chorpenning, adjutant of the Charles W. Zischau Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who told of the shoe being found in the Union high school auditorium. "Don't you think that the sacrifice of this shoe was too great a price to pay for some Christmas candy."

BREAKS GUARD GATE

North guard gate of the P. R. R., East Washington street, was broken Saturday when it was let down on a truck operated by John S. Riley, Jr., the latter reported to police.

CONGRESSMEN GATHERING FOR NEXT SESSION

Program Is Now Being Prepared

Believe Soldiers Bonus Will Be One Of First Measures Acted Upon

NEUTRALITY BILL ALSO LIVE ISSUE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23—An army of congressional leaders, returning here for the Christmas holidays after a four month vacation, today began plotting a legislative program for the session convening January 3.

While Capitol Hill will look to President Roosevelt for legislative leadership as in the past, congress will take the initiative in enacting other measures. In the latter class, notably, will be the bonus and neutrality legislation.

See Bonus Enactment

Both friends and foes of the proposal for immediate payment of adjusted service compensation certificates to some 2,000,000 world war veterans, frankly announced it would be enacted early in the session and undoubtedly over a presidential veto. The bill will be drawn by congress itself without suggestion from the white house.

The new neutrality bill probably will take a like course, with congress writing its own provisions, even if some portions are not acceptable to the white house. This was the case last August when the temporary six-months neutrality act was passed. The new law will be acted upon early, since the temporary act expires in February. There is no threat however of a presidential veto for this measure.

A host of tentative legislative proposals have been discussed by returning legislators.

The News, By Mail, One Year, $5.00.

AROUND CITY HALL

Members of the present city council only have four times to convene as a council for the city unless special sessions are called. The next meeting will be December 27, December 30, January 3 and January 6. The meeting January 6 will open with the present members in their chairs. The present mayor, C. B. Mayne will summon the mayor-elect, Charles McGrath, swear him into office and after Mayor McGrath has signed the oath of office he in turn will swear in Councilmen-elect J. M. Rice, J. L. Fink and City Treasurer-elect C. C. McKibben.

One of the moves it is anticipated Mayor Mayne will make prior to his departure is the appointment of probably no less than five policemen. A new civil service commission for police recently was named, sworn into office and held an organization meeting. Inasmuch as the old board was dismissed for what Mayor Mayne characterized as their failure to provide a list of eligible policemen it is reasonable to anticipate that the new board will provide the list so he can name some police before he departs.

In giving his estimate of anticipated income for general revenue purposes for 1936, Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland listed beer licenses as $11,000, delinquet taxes for the years 1931-35, inclusive, $70,000, New Castle Street Railway's share of street cleaning $1,300, pole and wire tax, $1,569, rent from third floor room in the city building, $250, plumbing permits $500, police court receipts, $4,000, municipal golf course, $4,023, Cascade Park, $5,729 and milk permits, $25.00.

Child Killed By Swallowing Balloon

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Dec. 23.—Strangled by a toy balloon which she had accidentally swallowed, Elanore, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, died soon after being admitted to the Beaver Valley hospital. The child had received the toy balloon at a Third ward Christmas entertainment and was on her way home when the accident happened.

Calvary Church Program Will Be Given Thursday

The Calvary Presbyterian Sunday school at East New Castle, will give their Christmas program on Thursday evening, December 26.

Opening song, "Joy to the World."
Scripture reading—Guy Christe.
Welcome—Katheryn Beckert.
Recitation—Pauline Fredericks.
Recitation—William Tindall.
Exercise—Junior boys.
Instrumental duet—Jerome Dodds and Dorothy Hoover.
Recitation—Eva Beckert.
Recitation—Sara Rietz.
Exercise—True Followers class.
Pageant, "I Beheld His Glory." Cast is as follows: Joel, G. E. Lawrence; Anna, Mrs. James Frisbee; David, Arthur Pander; Persis, Dorothy Hoover; Ruth, Mildred Zeigler; Asla, Helen Wilkinson; Angel, Jessie Lytle; Mary, Mrs. Ruth Watson; Joseph, Raymond Fredericks; Wise Men, Kenneth Robb, William Whitacre and Thomas Johnson; Singers, Helen Lytle and Alzeta Pander.

Victim Of Bullet Has Chance For Life

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 23.—Martin Spak, restaurant proprietor in Campbell, today was reported recovering in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, from bullet wounds inflicted by gunmen at noon Saturday, when he refused to give up $2.000 he had just withdrawn from a bank.

The money was to be used to cash steel workers' pay checks, and Spak, when accosted on a busy street corner near the bank, fought off the two men when they demanded the bundle.

Make Record For Grove City Schools

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 23.—Four Grove City schools have been placed on the honor roll of the National Education Association.

The association reports that Central, High, Lincoln and Washington schools of Grove City have registered 100 per cent of their teachers and other officers enrolled in the NEA. This marks the fifth year in which the Grove City schools have established such a record.

St. Vitus Church Christmas Plans Are Announced

Beautiful Christmas Music Will Feature Throughout Services

With an array of seasonal music, pageantry; and sermons by the eloquent Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the church, parishers of the St. Vitus church will observe the Nativity of Christ nearly 2,000 years ago.

One of the most beautiful cribs erected in the interior of the St. Vitus church in some years, has been arranged by Frank Mastrangelo, assisted by Frank Musolino and John Mastrangelo. The crib is an exact replica of the one which adorns St. Martino Museum in Naples. An abundance of Christmas trees and flowers make the inside of the South Side church a picturesque sight.

The Christmas services planned will start at 11:30. The church will be opened at 11 o'clock, Tuesday night. Singing of carols by girls of the parish, directed by the organist, Mrs. Elizabeth Lasko and Mrs. Frances Colao, will be one of the high lights of the services. Several appropriate recitals, in Italian and English, with 40 girls, attired as angels, will make up part of the pageant. Miss Jennie Latorre will serve as announcer. Miss Josephine Atria will give the Italian recital and Miss Rose Maciarello will present the English version. Miss Elizabeth Littier, talented soloist of Jackson avenue, will sing "Silent Night." She will be accompanied by a chorus of 40 girls.

Promptly at midnight a solemn high mass will be celebrated. It will commemorate the "Nativity of Christ." The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, will be celebrant, the Rev. Fr. Timothy, Passionist father, of Pittsburgh, will serve as deacon and Dante DeLillo, Laurel boulevard, of St. Vincent college, will act as sub-deacon. Nicholas Biondi, South Jefferson street, student at St. Vincent, will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. Fr. DeMita will deliver a sermon on, "The Birth of Christ." During the services, 40 altar boys and a large number of girls will march in the church. The replica of the Holy Infant will be taken from the main altar to the crib.

The St. Vitus choir, under the direction of B. J. Biondi, with Mrs. Elizabeth Lacko at the organ, will sing an appropriate mass. On Christmas morning, the second mass will be celebrated at 6:30 o'clock; third mass is scheduled for 8:00 o'clock, fourth mass at 9:30 o'clock, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow the last mass at 10:45 o'clock. During the five masses, the Rev. Fr. DeMita will distribute annual Christmas calendars.

As in other years, the St. Vitus church will be filled to capacity on Christmas.

Time of masses: Midnight Christmas; Christmas morning, masses at 6:30, 8, 9:30, and 10:45 o'clock.

Rowley To Become Judge January 6

Will Be Sworn In By Retiring Judge J. A. McLaughry At Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Dec. 23.—Judge-elect George H. Rowley of Greenville, will be sworn into office as president judge of Mercer county courts at 10 a. m. January 6, it is stated today by the retiring jurist Judge J. A. McLaughry.

The oath of office will be administered by the recorder. If former proceedure is followed the retiring recorder, Robert G. Campbell, will administer this oath along with the swearing in of the new county officials including his successor in office, John Service, of Sharon.

No set program is contemplated by Judge McLaughry states that official today. Remarks will probably be made by the two jurists and members of the bar association desiring to take part.

Linen closets may be made attractive by nailing a piece of molding along the edge of shelves and painting it in a contrasting color.

Midnight Service Program Complete

Trinity Church To Have Impressive Service At 11:30 P. M. Tuesday

The first service of the Christmas season in Trinity church will be tomorrow night, Tuesday, Christmas Eve, at 11:30 p. m. or one half hour before midnight. Thus it has come to be known as the "Midnight Service."

Greens, holly wreaths tied with red ribbons, pine trees in large numbers have been used in the decoration of the interior of the church.

The crucifer and servers will wear red cassocks as befits the Feast of the Nativity. The altar will be resplendent with burning candles telling all who come to worship and adore that "the light of the world" was born in Bethlehem of Judaea. Tapers will be carried in procession. All is planned to stimulate reverence, and devotion and to impress every worshipper with a desire to pay homage, as did the shepherds and Magi, to the Babe of the Manger.

The service will be the Holy Communion, being the first of nine opportunities given to receive the sacrament, after careful preparation, during the Christmas season, which lasts for eight days.

During the service a special offering, known as the Christmas offering, giving people an opportunity in a material way to show their devotion to the infant Jesus and to express their thanks to Him for coming into the world will be taken. The officials of the parish will use it in the effort to meet all the obligation of Trinity church for the year 1935.

Preludes—"To the Evening Star," (from Tannhauser) Richard Wagner.

Violin and organ, Misses Kathryn C. Bittner and Isabel T. Johnson. "Christmas Pastorale, F. Flaxington Harker.

Kyrie eleison—King Hall in C.

Anthem, "Hark; What Mean Those Holy Voices,"—Sir Arthur S. Sullivan.

Sursum corda—King Hall in C.

Sanctus—King Hall in C.

Agnus Dei—King Hall in C.

Communion hymns, 83, "Thou Dids't Leave Thy Throne," Timothy R. Mathews; 322, "Jesus, Greatest Saviour," Sbine Baring—Gould.

Gloria in excelsis—King Hall in C.

Post communion hymn, 546, "Silent Night, Holy Night," Franz Gruber.

Recessional, hymn 78, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," Lewis H. Redner.

Postlude, Paen Exultant, Frederick Stanley Smith.

On Christmas Day, Wednesday, Holy Communion will be administered at 10 a. m. On the feast of St. Stephen, deacon and First Christian martyr, Thursday, December 26, Holy Communion will be administered at 9:30 a. m.

Parsnips are good with veal and better when glazed. Use a half cup dark corn sirup and a tablespoon butter to make the sirup.

THE LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid held its meeting at the church Thursday. At noon, dinner was served by Section B. The table was most attractive with a miniature Christmas tree in the center and candles on each side. The president, Mrs. John Reed, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. W. H. Weinschenk gave a very interesting talk on the origin of Christmas. Mrs. J. E. Iams, led the prayer. At the close of the meeting, lovely gifts were exchanged by the members.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday evening, the Y. M. P. C. Sunday school class, pleasantly surprised its teacher, Harold Klingensmith, at his home in honor of his birthday. The president, Paul Quarterson, conducted the business meeting. Henry Taylor led in devotionals. John Reed gave an interesting talk on Temperance. At this time, Mr. Klinkensmith was given a lovely gift by the class and Mrs. John Tanner was presented with a Bible for two years perfect attendance at Sunday school. Christmas gifts were exchanged by the members of the class and the rest of the evening was given over to games and music. At a late hour, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Harold Klingensmith, Mrs. John Reed, and Mrs. John Tanner.

A GOOD THOUGHT

Bassler: They claim that when women adopted shorter skirts it reduced the number of street car accidents 50 per cent.

Rhodes: Wouldn't it be fine if such accidents could be prevented entirely?

Indians Work To Restore Buffalo

Bison Multiplying On Crow Reserve

(International News Service)

BILLINGS, Mont.—Another step toward restoring a semblance of the once-mighty bison herds that ranged the mountains and prairies of southern Montana, 100 of these animals, shipped from Yellowstone national park, have been turned out in the Crow Indian reservation south of here.

The buffalo, held in huge crates, were hauled in trucks from Lamar, in the park, to the vicinity of the Big Horn canon, where they were released. The first shipment consisted of 28 bison, taken from the park herd during a roundup of about half of the 1,000 animals ranging in the national playground.

Last year 113 bison were similarly removed to the Crow country under a plan worked out by Robert Yellowtail, superintendent of the reservation, who was chosen for the office by the Indians from among the leaders of the tribe. Natural increases has brought this number to 150.

"We have just completed a fence made completely of logs, which encloses a land-locked area, faced on three sides by precipitious rock walls, enclosing an area which will support about 1,000 head winter and summer," Yellowtail explained.

"The buffalo will use the deep canons which heretofore have been wasted feed. Whenever the herd outgrows this area, we have another land-locked range we can put them into. I am sure that the Indians demonstrated to the country at large that we are safe and proper persons to entrust the protection of wild life to, including buffalo, elk, and other animals."

Cape Hatteras Given New Light

(International News Service)

BUXTON, N. C.—The Watchdog of Diamond Shoals—"graveyard of the Atlantic"—gets a new streamlined home Jan. 1.

And Captain Uneka Jeannette, keeper of the Cape Hatters light for 15 years, is mighty happy about it. Not only will it mean the end of his solitary life, but it also means those long tiresome trips carrying gallons of oil to the top of the 215-foot lighthouse are at an end.

Instead Captain Jeannette will have only to push buttons to keep the light going in the new, skeleton steel tower, located a mile and a half inshore from the present light.

The new tower rears upward 150 feet from a dune here. Its sea-level height will equal that of the old light.

The present Cape Hatteras light is one of the highest in America and the tallest brick structure of its kind in the world. It was built in 1870 a mile and a quarter from the edge of the Atlanic. Now the ocean is gradually breaking away its foundations.

In favorable weather the light can be seen 60 miles at sea.

Truck Breaks Off Gasoline Pumps

Firemen Summoned To Mahoning Avenue By Peculiar Accident Saturday Afternoon

Three departments were called to the gasoline station of William T. Hares, 2 Mahoning avenue, Saturday afternoon at 1:40, by an alarm from box 71, when a gasoline distributing truck owned by E. C. Wadding, skidded and broke off the three gasoline pumps. A short circuit in the electric wiring system of the pumps, set fire to the gasoline in the pumps, and there was a fierce blaze under the loaded truck. The driver courageously drove the truck away, however, before it took fire.

There was little damage from the fire, but the pumps were a total loss, it was reported.

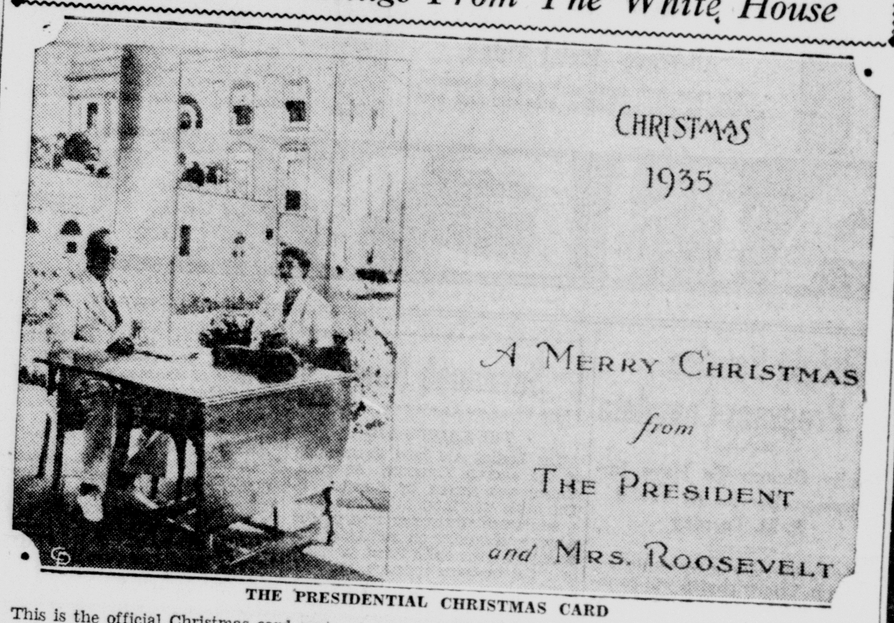

HOW NICE

A tightwad traveling salesman sent his better half a check for a million kisses as a birthday present. He was considerely upset when a few days later he received the following letter:

"Dear Jim: I can't begin to express my appreciation of the check you sent me on my birthday. I presented it to the milkman this morning. He cashed it."

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHRISTMAS CARD

This is the official Christmas card sent out from the White House by President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Chanukah Feast Is Huge Success

Congregation Of Tifereth Isreal Synagogue Observes Festival With Carnival

One of the outstanding events of the year, in the Tifereth Israel Synagogue, South Jefferson street, took place on Sunday evening, when nearly 150 persons assembled in observance of the two thousand one hundredth Chanukah festival.

Blue and white color scheme which was used in decorating the banquet room, added much color to the carnival which proved a most successful affair. The throng whiled away the hours, enjoying 10 various amusements arranged by the committee.

Two piano solos, Miss Lillian Rosenberg, and Miss Revina Wolfe, were enjoyed immensely. A reading by Miss Sylvia Rogovin scored a decided hit as did a solo by Rabbi Katz. One of the highlights was a piano logue by Mrs. Maurice Slaven, president of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood. Charles Cusher, of Canonsburg, was awarded a prize. Fortune telling by Miss Rosenberg, provided much entertainment.

During the course of the evening, the following gave impromptu speeches: Rabbi Diamond, of Temple Israel, Rabbi Shwartz, of Beth Sholom, Attorney Sherman K. Levine. Maurice Samules, president of the congregation, in a brief address, thanked the members of the synagogue for their fine cooperation. Dainty refreshments were served.

Efforts on the part of the following committee resulted in the marked success of the festival: Miss Miriam Ginsburg, Miss Jeanette Ginsburg, Miss Sylvia Saul, Miss Mary Levine, Miss Estelle Waldman, Jane Solomon and other members of the Sunday school. The Tifereth Israel Sisterhood aided in making the occasion probably the most successful of the year.

SAILOR'S WIFE HAS LONG WAIT FOR CASH

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA.—Mrs. Catherine Barkley won a court award of $9,400 under an act passed 227 years ago to protect the wives of seamen forced to be away from home for long periods. The judgment was obtained against her husband, Andrew, who left her 28 years ago and is believed to be in Australia. She expects to collect only $1,500 of the amount, however, a sum left to her husband by an aunt.

Spy Appeals, Gets A Longer Sentence

(International News Service)

AIX EN PROVENCE.—No matter how young and beautiful a girl spy may be she gets little sympathy from a French Appeal Court.

Elsa Burck, pretty blond 29-year-old German girl found this out when she appealed to the Court here against a sentence of 30 months imprisonment and 2,000 francs fine.

Her sentence was increased to four years jail and her fine raised to 3,000 francs. She had been found guilty of obtaining documents dealing with aviation plans.

EUROPEAN PRINCE BECOMES SOLDIER FOR ETHIOPIANS

(International News Service)

VIENNA. — Prince Ferdinand Liechtenstein, nephew of the ruling Prince Franz of Lichtenstein, left Vienna for Addis Ababa to offer his services to the Emperor of Abyssinia.

Prince Ferdinand Lichtenstein is known as a big game hunter and as exhusband of Shelach Brunner, daughter of the rich English industrial magnate, Brunner, who committed suicide with his wife several years ago.

Later Ferdinand Liechtenstein divorced his wife. His brother Johannes Alois married an American girl, Aleene MacFarland, of Texas, and is living in America.

Prince Ferdinand who is 34 years of age, was several times in Africa and once he invited also Edsel Ford to join one of his East African expeditions. Edsel Ford refused, so Prince Liechtenstein bought an Austrian motorcar.

LINDBERGHS ARE ON SHIP ENROUTE TO GREAT BRITAIN

dence in the British Isles, they were particularly anxious to be out of this country before the Bronx carpenter walked his last steps to doom, it was said.

To Hunt Seclusion

Having made up their minds some months ago that they could not bring up their son in an atmosphere of tension, constantly subject to the prying eyes of strangers, they decided to go in search of a house and garden somewhere abroad where they would not have to live in the limelight. At no time, it was learned, did they consider giving up their American citizenship.

This trip is in the nature of an exploratory voyage. The Lindberghs, according to International News Service's private source of information, are going to try it out before definitely casting their lot with the English, among whom they have many friends including the husband of Mrs. Lindbergh's late sister, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Dwight Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, and Miss Constance Morrow, youngest of the three daughters of the late ambassador to Mexico, are planning to travel abroad this winter, which made this a good time for the Lindberghs to go over, it was said.

"Terrible Weeks"

"These have been terrible weeks for them," said the family friend. "With the papers full of the Hauptmann news they have been troubled again and again. I know they wanted to try to have their Christmas and New Year's in peace and quiet.

"I do not believe they will stay abroad this time. I think they will only be gone two or three weeks, perhaps longer. Then they may go back to stay. It just seemed a good time for them to free lance for a while, especially during this next month."

Although both the Colonel and his wife have presented calm, stoical exteriors to the world and even to their most intimate friends, the hubbub about the imminent death of the man who has been declared the murdered of their blonde first-born has affected them profoundly, it is believed. Some have said that the couple could not endure being present when those vivid stories of the execution, which looms within less than a month, were spread the length and breadth of the land. This, although friends declare the whole family believes Hauptmann guilty.

State Department Not Informed

Washington, Dec. 23.—State department officials professed complete ignorance today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his family had obtained passports for a foreign country.

On the contrary, they asserted, investigation has disclosed that Col. Lindbergh never made any application for passports for himself and family.

Reminded that most countries insist upon passport identification as a requisite to entrance, officials merely reiterated that department records show no application was received by the Lindberghs.

Department of justice officials appeared unaware of the Lindbergh's departure.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, declined to make any comment at first, but indicated he would have a statement later.

Sensation In England

London, Dec. 23.—Word that the Lindbergh family was enroute to England to take refuge from plotting kidnapers created a sensation among the public today, but left Scotland yard officials unexcited and acually almost aloof.

As a matter of fact, it soon developed that the famed yard probably will take no special precautions to guard the American flyer and his family during their stay in this country, however long.

Girl Ships Alone As Crew Member In 4-Masted Ship

Wealthy And Pretty, But Prefers Adventure At Sea To Life On Land

(International News Service)

LONDON—A woman, young and good looking, moneyed, widow of a major in the 9th Hussar regiment, stepped into a small boat on Deal beach a few days ago, and was pulled towards the four-masted Finnish barque Panope, then standing out to sea.

Mrs. Douglas Duff was off to join the vessel as an apprentice-officer.

Later the Panope moved slowly through the water bound for Scottish ports; then to Australia via the Cape of Good Hope.

It was Mrs. Duff's second voyage in the first she shipped as a seaman.

"I enjoyed every minute of it," she said before she left.

"We sailed from Port Lincoln, South Australia, and after a voyage round Cape Horn which lasted eighteen weeks we landed our cargo of grain at London.

"I paid for my passage, but I received my seaman's wages.

"Why do I do it? Because I love the sea.

"The sea is not my only hobby. I hold an air pilot's certificate.

"When I am aboard the Panope I am an ordinary member of the crew. If I am told to go aloft, aloft I go. That is all there is to that."

Observe Channukah In Traditional Way

Children Of Temple Israel Religious School Have Celebration Sunday

On Sunday afternoon the children of the Temple Israel Religious school celebrated Channukah in traditional joyous fashion. They were entertained at a luncheon given them by the sisterhood and then presented their program. A play, A Maccabean Cure, was given in which the following children took part: Naomi Conn, Estelle Cukerbaum, Reva Love, Carolyn Cosel, Natalie Ehrlich, Jeanette Kulkin, Florence Goldman, Morton Love, Sander Rubenson, Sidney Fell, Eddard Levine, Alvin Kulkin and Howard Love. The play was received enthusiastically by a large audience.

After the presentation of the play, the Channukah lights were kindled, appropriate lines being recited with the lighting of each candle. The participants were Marshall Conn, Joey Kulkin, Alvin Kulkin, David Marlin, Leah Marlin, Joyce Rizicka, George Rubenson and Lois Pitnoff, Mrs. H. Botwin directed the play and lighting of the candles.

Marcus Feuchtwanger, president of Temple Israel, acted as master of ceremonies. He called on A. Gonick as chairman of the Religious School committee for remarks, M. Riizicka as chairman of the Hebrew School committee, and on Mrs. N. Ehrlich as president of the Sisterhood.

THELMA TODD—FROM SCHOOLMARM TO SCREEN STAR

Woman Bests Men In Wilds Of Northwest

Philadelphia Woman Succeeds Where Noted Explorer Failed Last Spring

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C.—The 1200 miles of uncharted wilderness between Fort St. John and Telegraph Creek in Northern British Columbia, which defied the tractor-equipped cavalcade of Charles E. Bedaux, world-famous explorer, last spring have been conquered by a white-haired woman from Philadelphia.

And the strange part about it all is that Mrs. J. Norman Henry who describes herself as an amateur botanist, and her 20 year old daughter, Josephine, made the hazardous journey just because they "love the country and think it's the finest way of spending the summer."

Hitting the unmapped wilderness trails of northern B. C. and the Yukon is nothing new to the wife of Philadelphia's director of public health.

In 1931, Mrs. Henry accompanied by her four children, the youngest a boy of 14, traveled 600 miles through the wilds. Since then she and her daughter, Josephine, have traveled 2550 miles with K. F. McCusker, Dominion land surveyor, as their guide.

As a director of the American Horticulture Society, Mrs. Henry made the trip primarily to collect specimens of sub-arctic plants. She brought back 40 cans of living specimens and hundreds of pressed plants.

She described the journey as "simple" and blamed the failure of the great Bedaux expedition to heavy equipment, which included 40 men, 140 horses and tractors.

Mrs. Henry and her daughter employed six men and had a pack train of 29 horses to carry their supplies and equipment.

LOWEST PROPERTY TAX NOW IS IN N. C.

(International News Service)

RALEIGH, N. C.—North Carolina now has a per capita property tax lower than any other state and its combined franchise and income are next to the highest in the nation, because of pioneering departments in state government.

This was disclosed by charts compiled by Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell.

The state supplanted a property tax for governmental expenses with an income tax 14 years ago. The State began absorbing all public school expenses in 1911 and by 1913 the State paid the entire bill for a uniform state-wide eight months school term. A three per cent general sales tax was then substituted for state and local taxes for school support.

"THRILL" SEEKERS TO BE DISAPPOINTED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA.—"Morbid thrill seekers" are barred from a new court established here for statutory cases. Declaring the move a desirable innovation in jurisprudence, Judge Charles L. Brown opened the court as a branch of the municipal bench. Cases involving unwed mothers heretofore attracted hundreds of spectators who jammed the old courtroom. Under the new system, only the principals and a few attendants will be allowed in the room.

"HELL" GOOD WORD IF IT'S USED RIGHT WAY

PHILADELPHIA—"Hell" is a fine old word and ministers should use it more frequently declares the Rev. Samuel W. Griffin of White Plains, N. Y. "Hell is the only word you can use to say 'It's as hot as' or 'It's as cold as' or 'as dry as'." the clergyman told a meeting of Methodist Episcopal officials. "If you say 'It's as cold as hell,' everybody knows what you mean." The pastor digressed to comments on the word while admonishing his hearers for not spending every cent possible to reach "hell-raising kids."

Jellyfish "Rain" Falls Upon Town

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE.—A rain of jellyfish struck Frankston, Victoria, a town on the coast of Port Phillip Bay.

Judge Denounces Kiss-And-Teller

(International News Service)

MODESTO, Cal.—A man who blurts out details and names of a sub-rosa romance is no gentleman!

This principle was laid down in superior court here by Judge L. J. Maddux as he rebuked Manuel Mattos, 19, who just finished testifying about his purported association with Mrs. Mary Serpa, principal in a divorce action.

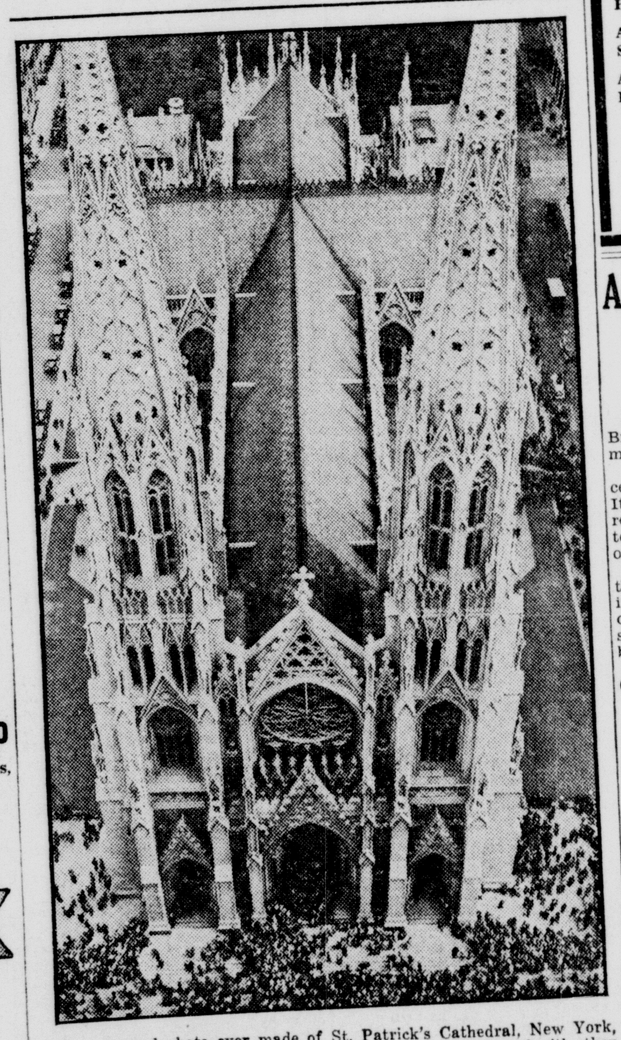

In bristling language, the judge denounced the youth and awarded custody of the woman's child to her. Her husband had claimed she was an unfit mother.

"TOOTS" FALL IN LEADING DOG'S LIFE

(International News Service)

BOSTON—"Toots" fell 45 feet from a bedroom window of her master's home, shook herself, barked, and scampered to the front door. Veterinarians found no injury on the body of the six-month old terrier. Mrs. Mary Cunio owner of the dog, took no chances, however, and tied the puppy on a divan in her home. The forced inactivity was irksome to "Toots," who capered about until she fell 20 inches to the floor.

Best Photographs of the Year

Most unusual photo ever made of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, largest religious edifice in the western hemisphere, contributed with other photos to ranking of Arthur Sasse as outstanding newspaper camerartist of the year. The picture was made Easter Sunday, after Sasse had waited for weeks for building operations opposite the structure to reach the exact stage for him to make this "shot." This is No. 17 of a series. (Central Press)

Asks Death Chair For Drunk Driver

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Said Rev. C. Gordon Brownville from the pulpit of Tremont Temple:

"Drunken drivers who kill should certainly die in the electric chair. It is just as much a sin to drive recklessly on the highways as it is to go out with a gun and kill in order to rob.

"I think it is time when men in the pulpit should preach about the increasing number of fatalities on our streets. You remember Paul said, "be not intoxicated with wine but filled with the spirit!"

OFFICIAL STATUS OF CATS DEFINED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 23—The official status of cats in the Pittsburgh postoffice building was the subject of much discussion here recently.

Although the annual budget of the postoffice department contains an appropriation for the maintenance of cats in the postoffice to exterminate rats, the postoffice custodian said that no part of the appropriation had ever been sent here to provide for "rodent chasers." The local office has always had a couple of "tabbies" around but only in an unofficial status.

CURIOSITY SAVED COLLIE PUPPIES

(International News Service)

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 23—Raymond Hilton's curiosity saved the lives of six collie puppies, apparently left by their owner to slow deaths.

Hilton, a school student, noticed a tightly-closed box as he cycled along a road near here. His interest was heightened when he heard scratchings and whining within. The noises came from the half-dozen furry little creatures, weak from hunger and cold.

Hilton and his schoolmates promptly claimed the orphans, found homes for three of them and turned the others over to the county society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF SCHOOLS RAPPED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—"Endowed schools and colleges may come under direct control of the government, if present trends continue," in the opinion of Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette college.

Dr. Lewis believes such an eventuality would be "a tragedy" and urged a change in education to inspire youth to aid in creating "a better social order".

"We are on the verge of the greatest development this country has ever seen," he added, "if we can raise up a new generation adequate to meet the problems facing them."

COLLEGE IS GIVEN GRANT OF $125,000

(International News Service)

BRYN MAWR, Pa.—Bryn Mawr college has received a grant of $125,000 from the Carnegie corporation of New York, founded by the late steel executive.

It was uncertain, officials said, whether the sum would be applied to a campaign for $1,000,000 for new buildings or used for other endowment purposes.

BLIND WOMAN HAD AN ORDERLY SYSTEM

(International News Service)

CARMICHAELS, Pa. — A novel story of thorough, but literally measured, life in her last 22 years of blindness came to light with the auctioning of household furnishings that served as "eyes" for Mrs. Elizabeth Draden during her lonely existence.

Each piece in her four-room house, from kitchen utensils to bedroom comforts, was found permanently arranged in measurements of paces and it was this timed setting that led the widow through chores and practices of home life with all the readiness of an ordinary housewife.

Mrs. Draden had lived in constant dread of someone moving one of the objects and causing the entire pattern of her movements to lose its effectiveness.

Man Seriously Injured When Hit By Auto Saturday

Phenias Livinuk Is In Serious Condition At Ellwood City Hospital

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Phenias Livinuk, of 119 First street, is in the Ellwood City hospital in a serious condition as a result of being struck by an automobile driven by Ralph J. Herge, of Lawrence avenue, about 11 o'clock last Saturday night.

The man has a broken leg, broken arm, possible internal injuries. It was feared that he had also sustained a fracture of the skull but X-rays this morning disproved this.

In his report to local police Herge stated that he was traveling west on Fountain avenue and was passing the intersection of First street when a man suddenly appeared in front of him about 20 feet away. He was unable to avoid striking him. The injured man was placed in the car of a passing motorist and taken to the local hospital.

Birthday Surprise For Mrs. Elsie Hall

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Elsie Hall was the victim of a delightful surprise on Saturday evening when members of her family and their children, numbering thirty-one, gathered to aid in celebrating the occasion of her sixty-second birthday anniversary.

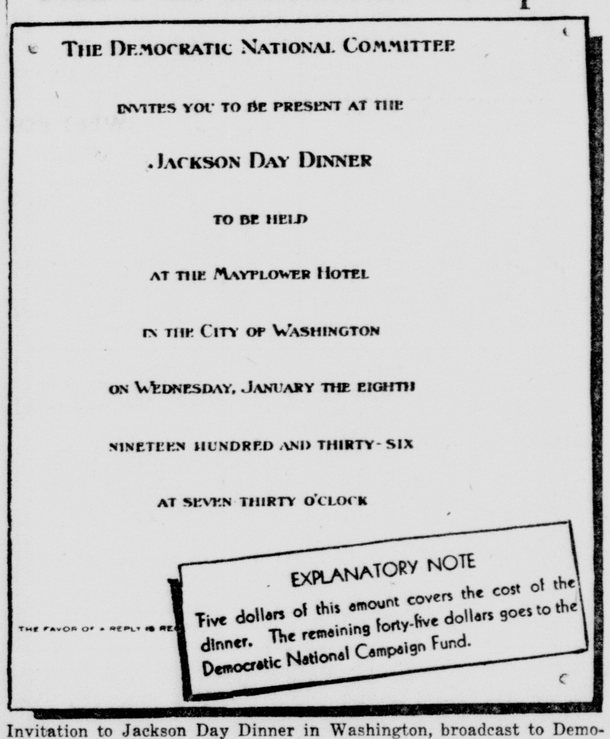

Games and music were the diversion of the evening which passed in a merry manner. At an appropriate hour a delicious luncheon was served by the daughters of the honor guest.

Negroes Mixed In Cutting Affray

Tom Allen Lodged In Local Jail Following Fracas Last Saturday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Local police placed under arrest two colored men involved in a cutting affray Saturday night. Anderson Miller escaped with a minor injury to his chest when he was struck with a small penknife and Tom Allen is lodged in the local jail, accused of having committed the injury.

According to local police the two, with some other men were playing cards and drinking at Allen's home. They later decided to go to Youngstown and when Allen was refused a loan by Anderson, he became vexed. Allen later followed Anderson to Frank Wolfe's store on 13th street where he picked an argument over the loan, which resulted in the cutting fracas. Local police were summoned and placed both under arrest. Anderson was taken to an office of a local physician, where his injury was dressed. An information is expected to be made against Allen today.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Lloyd, and Mrs. Arvilla Lloyd, of West Newton, have concluded a visit with relatives at Lilyville.

Primary Classes Christmas Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Saturday afternoon was an enjoyable occasion for members of the three primary classes of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church for their teachers entertained them at a Christmas party at the church.

The hours passed quickly and were kept merry with a variety of games and contests holding the attention of the twenty-three little folks participating.

An added feature of the occasion was the serving of tasty refreshmen by the teachers, Mrs. Floyd Kramer and Mrs. George McDougall. A grab bag brought the affair to a pleasant close.

Mrs. W. H. Thornhill Suddenly Stricken

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Mrs. William H. Thornhill, 66, of 731 Park avenue died suddenly from a heart attack at the office of Dr. W. H. Shields on Fifth street. She was in the waiting room when she was stricken.

The only immediate survivor of the deceased is her husband. Funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home with the Rev. O. B. Emerson of the local M. E. church, officiating. Interment will be made in the Locust Grove Cemetery.

Christmas Programs In Many Churches Here On Sunday

Big Turnout For Churches On Occasion Of Annual Observance Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec 23.—The Yuletide season was fittingly observed by many Ellwood City churches on Sunday. Others will be carried out on Christmas Eve and Day. Many beautiful programs were carried out yesterday.

The church school presented its annual program in the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening with the assistance of the choir. Miss Marjorie Streeter was at the organ. The program consisted of songs and recitations. W. A. Kerr, as Santa Claus, was the announcer and later gave the children a Christmas treat. The children had brought gifts of non-perishable foods to give to the city emergency relief department.

The program was presented under the direction of Sunday School Supt. J. S. Bowater, and the department heads of Harry Brown, Mrs. Edw. Mackasek, of the Primary Department; Mrs. William Mattocks of the Junior Department. The various teachers also assisted.

At a white gift service in the U. P. church on Sunday night, $768.25 was raised. There was a cantata by the choir in the M. E. church, and special program in the Bell Memorial, Immanuel Reformed, Trinity Lutheran, First Christian and Slippery Rock Presbyterian.

Christmas Party At Gibbons Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gibbons proved to be pleasing hosts on Saturday evening when they entertained a number of the young married couples of the Wurtemburg U. P. church at a Christmas party.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowles of Ellwood and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Clair Witherow of Knox, were special guests.

Games and contests of a wide variety held the attention of the guests throughout the evening. The serving of a delicious oyster supper by the hostess assisted by a group of the ladies concluded the event.

KAMPERS KLUB HAS MEETING SATURDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23.—Mrs Harry Parthemore delightfully entertained the members of the Kampers Klub and their husbands at her home on Wayne avenue Saturday evening.

After a delicious six o'clock dinner a gift exchange was held, followed with a social time of games and contests. A number of prizes were awarded as a result.

The next meeting will be held on January 11, at the home of Mrs. R. A. Snedden on Wayne avenue.

Ellwood Saxons Trounce Farrell

Segedi Leads Locals To Victory In Belated Second-Half Attack

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 23—Saturday night the local Saxon teams defeated the Farrell Saxon boys' and girls' teams at the Lincoln High gym. The boys won 29 to 19; the girls won 23 to 5.

After grabbing an early lead Ellwood bogged down to trail 10-7 at the half-way mark. Ellwood scored six points in the first quarter, only one in the second; Farrell made four in the first and six in the second quarter. During the second half Ellwood counted 22 times, while holding the visitors to 9.

Martin Segedi featured the attack by sinking several spectacular shots from mid floor. He made two-pointers and a foul for a total of 13. Zikeli accounted for seven points. Holmes and Mashagan lead the visitors with seven and five points repectively.

The lassies walloped the visiting girls 23 to 5. Rose Segedi scored 17 of the 23 points for Ellwood.

Several Accidents Over Week End Here

Woman Is Injured In Collision; Two Other Accidents Are Reported

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec 23.—Several accidents were reported to local police over the week-end. Mrs. K. M. Musser received injuries to her chest and considerable damage to her car when it was struck by another machine driven by Burley W. Trew, of South Lyons, Mich., about 12:30 a. m. Sunday.

In a report filed by Trew at the local police station, he was traveling east on Spring avenue and upon reaching the intersection of Fifth street he observed another car coming on Fifth street. Thinking that he could make it across the street he proceeded to and the cars collided at the intersection and Mrs. Musser was injured. She was taken to an office of a nearby physician.

Two cars were slightly damaged in an accident on Sunday morning about 10 o'clock. Harold Boots, of North Ellwood Heights, was traveling south on North street and had reached the intersection of First avenue, when another car going east on this street came before him. They collided at the intersection and each damaged a front fender.

Through a telephone conversation William Taylor, of this city, was summoned to the hospital at Sewickley, Pa., where his mother, Mrs. William Rowe, was taken following an automobile accident, last Saturday night. The call came to the local police station and the son was notified in this manner. Mrs. Rowe was not seriously injured.

Let The Cat Out Of Bag

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—A federal agent observed a cat which first lunged out of the barn of Jacob Hoffman, at Downey, near here, attacked a cow, ran backyards across the road and then lay down on its back and kicked the air.

The agent looked around, found what the cat had already found, arrested Hoffman and lodged him in jail on moonshining charges.

COUNTY STREAMS TO BE IMPROVED

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa. Dec. 23—Improvement of county streams to benefit Montgomery county fishermen is the object of the recently organized federation of sportsmen's clubs of Montgomery county.

With $12,000 in WPA funds the association will repair two dams in the upper Perkiomen, damaged by floods. Four other dam rebuilding projects have been submitted to federal authorities for approval.

KOPPEL

MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the Italian Mutual Benefit society was held on Sunday, December 15. In addition to the regular routine of business the election of officers was in order for the coming year. The following officers were elected: Lodge president, Sam Botti; lodge vice president, Fred Assini; secretary of finances, Nick Franchino; treasurer, Charles Nardone; secretary of correspondence, Ralph Martine.

The following club officers were elected: President, James Scionti; trustees, Michael A. Petti and Anthony E. Massa.

Matters pertaining to Christmas relief and a Christmas treat for the children were discussed and agreed upon. The meeting was in charge of Samuel S. Crangi, president.

KOPPEL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gasser and daughter of Arthur street motored to Cleveland, O., on Thursday where they were the guests of Mrs. Glasser's sister.

Many From Here Attend Funeral Of Dr. Galbreath

Obsequies For Volant College Founder Conducted At Rodgers, O.

A throng of friends from Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties, many of whom were students of the former Volant College, went to Rodgers, O., on Saturday afternoon, and attended the funeral services at 2 o'clock conducted for the late Dr. A. A. Galbreath, well known educator and Volant college founder.

Dr. Galbreath died early Wednesday morning. As soon as the sad news of his death became known, a continuous line of friends began calling at his residence. Wednesday the Rodgers community offered condolences to the bereaved family; Thursday the Columbiana board of education, the Beaver district rural school board, and many other educational groups called; on Friday veterans of the World War and the legislative members of the state of Ohio, including many well known statesmen and several former governors, called; and on Saturday the relatives of the deceased and members of the Volant College Alumni Association were present for the final rites.

A loud speaker was used to broadcast the impressive funeral service throughout the crowded home. Clergymen in charge included Rev. T. J. Maxwell, Methodist Episcopal pastor, of Rodgers; Rev. B. H. Shadduck, of Cleveland, O.; Rev. W. M. Weyrick, of Columbus, O.; and Rev. F. S. Brenneman, of New Castle, a graduate of Volant College. Rev. Brenneman paid a tribute to Dr. Galbreath's character as an educator, builder and friend.

The cortege accompanied the body to the place of interment in Carmel Quaker cemetery. Nephews of Dr. Galbreath were pallbearers and the members of the Ohio legislature, the governors, and the male students of Volant college, headed by Reid English, president of the alumni association, and Alec M. McConahey, vice president, were honorary pallbearers.

Thief Facing Great Danger

Police today searched for the person or persons who on Saturday night took 10 pounds of cyanide from the automobile of George Cross while the machine was parked in Apple Way, north of South street.

Cross told the police the cyanide was in cans and the cyanide might kill anyone who opened any of the cans.

Speed Work On W.P.A. Payrolls

Nearly $8,000,000 Is Being Paid To Workers In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 23—To insure the distribution of nearly $8,000,000 in wages to Pennsylvania's 225,000 works progress administration workers before Christmas work on WPA payrolls was being rushed toward completion today.

Administration offices hummed with activity over the week end as WPA Administrator Edward N. Jones summoned his staff for overtime work in the preparation of the wage checks. Jones promised "every WPA worker will be paid up to date by Christmas time," and said there would be no overdue payrolls.

His statement was made following the clearing up of difficulties that have caused payroll delays. These delays, according to Jones, were in the U. S. treasury office here, and the tangles were straightened out after a staff of treasury representatives from Washington was sent to Harrisburg to iron out the difficulties.

East New Castle

LOYAL LADIES ENJOY YULE EVENT

The home of Mrs. I. A. Lytle, Alborn avenue, was opened Thursday evening to the members of the Loyal Ladies class for their annual Yuletide party. A chicken dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Pander and Mrs. Lester Wood.

After the dinner the guests were invited to the living room where they were seated before an open fire and Mrs. G. E. Lawrence read the Christmas Story and Mrs. A. L. Graff offered prayer. An exchange of gifts followed. At this time Mrs. Lawrence in behalf of the class presented Mrs. Lytle, the teacher, and Mrs. Wood, the substitute teacher, lovely gifts. After this period carol singing was enjoyed and the women finished this delightful evening with a treasure hunt. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Roy Long, Mrs. Earl Powell, Mrs. Elmer Pander and Mrs. G. E. Lawrence.

Mrs. J. W. Allen of the Butler road and Mrs. C. N. Griffith of Highland avenue were special guests.

YULETIDE PARTY

Miss Edith Holzhouser proved a pleasing hostess when she entertained the members of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Ruth Watson to a Christmas party.

A candle lighted room and a glowing Christmas tree gave the home a real Christmas spirit.

The evening was enjoyed with games of the season. Prizes were awarded to Betty Davis, Helen Wilkison, Lilly Tindall, May Pack and Sara Badger. Then the girls enjoyed a Christmas exchange and a white elephant gift and much merriment was had at this time.

LOCAL BIBLE STUDENTS HOME

Rev. R. J. Fredericks and A. M. Moser motored to Binghamton Bible school last week at Binghamton, N. Y., where they made a short visit and returned here, arriving early Saturday evening, bringing with them three young people who are members of the Calvary Presbyterian church, and who left here last fall to enter Bible school. They are Miss Malinda Walker, Miss Ruby Zeigler and Thomas King. This group will spend about a three weeks Christmas vacation here and will also hold some meetings.

MUSIC CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. J. Anderson entertained the members of the Music club to a Christmas party in her home on Saturday evening.

Games and music were the chief pastimes of the evening and at an appointed time Santa Claus appeared and presented each with gifts from their gift exchange.

Mrs. R. J. Fredericks then assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

BIRTHDAY HONORED

Mrs. R. J. Fredericks entertained a group of little folks in her home last week in honor of the birthday of her little daughter Pauline.

Games and fun were enjoyed throughout the evening. At a seasonable time, Evelyn Fredericks, assisted by Dorothy Shaffer, served the guests with a dainty Christmas lunch.

Dying Husband Requests Wife To Play Organ

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 23.—Strains she played on the organ for a Christmas cantata today echoed with sorrow in the heart of Mrs. Ethel Roden Gerwig.

Her husband, Charles Henry Gerwig, lay dead at home, but Mrs. Gerwig was at her usual place at the organ of the Third Presbyterian church although church officials offered to abandon the planned cantata.

One of Gerwig's dying requests was that his wife join in the church ceremonies.

"Go through with it, Ethel," he said.

MAN FOUND ON HIGHWAY DIES

(International News Service)

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Dec. 23.—Police today were investigating the death of John Peterson, 47, who died of a fractured skull after he was found lying along a nearby highway.

Authorities have been unable to determine whether Peterson fell or was run down by a hit-run driver.

Connie Mack Gives To Youth Of Nation Optimistic Message

Grand Old Man Of Baseball Celebrates His 73rd Birthday Today

Tells Young Men To Choose Career And Then Stick To It

By ROBERT T. PAUL
International News Service Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—America's youth, the lost battalion of the depression army, soon will be swinging down the nation's thoroughfares with a self-confidence built upon the failures of its elders!

So declared Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball, here today as he celebrated his 73rd birthday in his office atop the Shibe Park tower. On his desk were congratulatory messages from "his boys" and friends the world over.

Optimism Felt

"Our youth is emerging from the depression period with a feeling of optimism, confident of its ability to take a place among the country's leaders," said the venerable manager of the Philadelphia Athletics as he momentarily ceased preparing plans for his 53rd season in organized baseball.

"And why shouldn't the young fellows be even more confident than their brethren of the World War? Look at the advantageous position they're in. They stand ready to profit by the grave mistakes of the older men and also accept that which has proved successful. Why, the boys today are starting where many of the old leaders are stopping!

"Youth shouldn't make the mistake of jumping from one job to another. Very few men are so equipped with knowledge and experience they can move from one sphere of business into another and continue to be successful. Young chaps should decide what business they like best and have the courage and determination to stick to it.

Maintain Enthusiasm

"That's the best way I know to maintain one's youthful enthusiasm in business. Early in my life I decided baseball was my game—and my business. I liked it as a kid and, by gosh, I still like it. All my early fondness for baseball I've managed to retain. The games, the boys, the traveling and the friends you meet—by george—I wouldn't want to do anything else."

Connie paused. Unconsciously he raised a hand of long, lean and gnarled fingers to brush a stray strand of hair. His thinning thatch, once sandy, but now mixed gray, was parted in the middle. There was a sparkle about his Irish eyes that denoted a keenness of mind frequently absent in men of his age.

Never Disgusted

Tell me, I asked him, isn't it possible the long train rides on a hot mid-August night, eating in a hurry, shaving while trains poundsd about sharp curves, and, yes, the loss of important games left you tired and disgusted with it all?

"Disappointed and disgusted now and then," replied Connie, "but honestly never tired of the game. I'm no different, I guess, than most business men. When things go wrong and the breaks are against you, it's natural to be disappointed. And sometimes the playing of your best men causes you to be disgusted with them. But not for long. Tomorrow brings another test and you plan and scheme to win again. The thrill of each new game provides another stimulant and helps you forget the disappointment of defeat."

Likes Baseball

"To be successful in baseball—and in every business—you must take some chances. There are times when you must forget conservative teachings and gamble. Goodness gracious, no business man can afford to stand still. You must go on! It's always been that way and I guess it always will be."

Then he at 73 was planning to go on—perhaps to his 10th pennant and sixth world series triumph?

"I certainly am! I'm just as enthusiastic and as optimistic about winning as the day I broke into organized baseball. Understand, I'm not making a prediction about next year. But I admit I'm youthful enough at 73 to see the rosy side of our picture."

Follows Rules

Youthful at 73! What a description of this internationally known Philadelphian whose spry step is the envy of thousands years younger. Perhaps he follows specific rules to maintain this enthusiasm. He does.

"Associate with young men, live outdoors as much as possible, learn to relax during the day even if only for 10 minutes. Eat a good breakfast, a light lunch and a hearty dinner, obtain eight hours sleep, be moderate in all habits, and don't worry.

SHENANGOS TOP CADETS QUINTET

For games with Shenangos, call 4049-R and ask for Al or Joe Fava.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

James Caras, 25-year-old player from Wilmington, Del., captured the world's pocket billiards championship by defeating Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland in a playoff match at New York, 125 to 53 in 16 innings. It was Caras' second successive win over the Clevelander who took the meet last year. He beat Rudolph 125 to 21 in the concluding match of the regularly scheduled play to go into a deadlock for first place and then beat Rudolph a second time, netting the title.

Although Lew Feldman laced Tony Herrera at Pittsburgh recently, the fans must have liked the bout because Promoter Jake Mintz has them scheduled for another 10-round bout tonight at Pittsburgh. In their first bout Lew knocked down Herrera twice.

Primo Carnera arrived at Naples yesterday and went straight to Fascist headquarters. He said his mother had given Fascism all the cups and trophies of his sport career after which he handed over a big gold medal Italians gave him when he left New York.

Clipping a stroke from par on the last round at Nassau, Bahamas, Leo Mallory, 24, of Norton, Conn., a professional, won the $5,000 British Colonal open golf tournament from a galaxy of good club-swinging professionals. Willie MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., trailed him by a stroke.

Terry Is Best First Baseman

Terry Credited With Only Six Errors Through Entire 1935 Season

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Billy Terry, the New York Giants hard-hitting player manager, today was acknowledge officially as the best fielding first baseman in the National League.

According to official statistics released today, "Memphis Bill" topped the first sackers with a fielding mark of .996. Terry made only six errors through the season, and contributed most assists.

Gus Suhr High

Billy Herman, of the Chicago Cubs, was the year's best second baseman with a fielding mark of .964. Only three other senior loop middle-baseman saw action in 1935 in more than 100 games. They were Alex Kampouris, Cincinnati Reds; Floyd Young, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Lou Chiozza, of the Phils.

Johnny Vergez, traded by the Giants to the Philadelphia nine, made an excellent comeback to lead the fielding third-basemen with an average of .953. The Frenchman made only ten misplays at the "hot corner" in a total of 144 games.

Travis Jackson, Giant veteran, trailed Vergez with a mark of .947, followed by Stan Hack, of the Cubs, with .942.

Hartnett Best

Charles"Gabby" Hartnett took the catcher's championship for the second successive year, fielding .984. The Cub backstop, by appearing in 110 games, chalked up his eleventh straight year of catching in more than 100 games.

By the narrow margin of one point, Mel Ott, of the Giants, took the leadership among outfielders, edging out Paul Waner, of Pittsburgh, by one point, fielding .990 to Waner's .989.

Foster Selects All-Americans On High Teams

All-Time All-American High School Eleven Chosen By East Sider

L. W. "Odey" Foster, well known East Side sportsman and one of the biggest boosters that New Castle high ever had, today submitted to the sports department an All-American team composed of Americans who have played for Bridenbaugh in the past 13 years.

Foster says "every year there are All-Italian teams, All-Polish teams, and All-Jones and All-Smith teams," and he thinks there should be an All-American team picked.

Here is the way Mr. Foster would line them up:

Quarterback—Ralph Day.

Halfbacks—Chuck Fleming and Eddie Ward.

Fullback—Tommy Harper.

JOAN MEETS NOTED VISITOR

Arriving in Los Angeles after several months of personal appearances in the east, Joan Marsh, star of studio and stage, meets Flamingo, king of the turf. Flamingo, four-year-old British race horse, is here for the Santa Anita handicap, Feb. 22. Miss Marsh is going to London soon for stage appearances.

Rifle Club Plans For Turkey Shoot

Members of the New Castle Rifle Club will stage a turkey shoot tonight at the Cathedral range at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by Leo W. Hill. There will be lucky targets for everybody.

In the shoot held last night Ruby Moore and Leo Hill were tied for first place with 191 apiece. This is an exceptionally fine score for a woman. Next in line were L. Allen, 180, Pugh 180, Dean 180, Reynolds had 175, Cole 161, and G. Allen had 160.

CATHOLICS WANT GAMES

The Catholic A. C. basketball team coached by "Gabby" DeCaprio would like to book games with all fast teams in the city and county. For games write to Business Manager "Spotty" Reda at 908 South Mill St New Castle, or call 3889W between 6 and 7 o'clock.

Cen. Christians Lead Church AA Basketball Loop

First M. E. And First Presbyterians Lead Church A League

Central Christian church basketball team with such stars as Earl Bauman, Freddy McClure, and Bill Wallace in the lineup, are leading the Church AA basketball league at the "Y" according to figures released by Henry MacNicholas today.

The Christians have dropped but one game and have five victories to their credit. The Sacred Hearts are tied with the Epworth M. E. for second place with four victories and two defeats apiece. Next in line comes the First Baptists and St. Michaels with three victories and two defeats. St. Nicholas, Tifereth Israel and First Christians follow.

There have been some fine basketball battles to date in the Senior church league and there are some more fine games to follow.

Church A League

In the church A League we find two teams tied for leadership, the First M. E. and First presbyterians with three victories and no defeats to date. Next in line is St. Paul's Lutheran church, with two victories and one defeat. Tifereth Israel, Third U. P. and Mahoning Presbyterians follow in the order named.

The Church A League is proving quite a popular one at the "Y" and the games are drawing big crowds. Tonight the "Y" floor should be packed as the two league leaders tangle.

The standings of the two leagues to date:

Church AA League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Cen. Christians	5	1	1.833
Epworth M. E.	4	2	.667
Sacred Hearts	4	2	.667
First Baptists	3	2	.600

Grid Player Able To Leave Hospital

Edward Shellogg, Who Was Injured Late In October, Returns To Home

Edward Shellogg, of West Chartes street, fullback on the high school junior varsity team, who sustained a compound fracture of the right leg in a practice game October 31, was able to return to his home from the Jameson Memorial hospital over the week-end.

Riot Occurs At Hockey Game In Baltimore Arena

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Dec. 23.—More than one Baltimore hockey fan nursed bruises today following a free-for-all among players and spectators at last night's amateur hockey game between the Baltimore Orioles and the Atlantic City Seagulls, of the Eastern Hockey League. The Orioles won, 3 to 2, but not before one fan had been arrested for socking one of the Seagulls. Ty Anderson, Atlantic City defenseman, finished the game on a stretcher, catching a whack on the skull which required several stitches. When a first fight broke out among the skaters, spectators took a hand right merrily until the gendarmes put matters under control.

Keystones Face Tough Schedule

The Keystone A. C. Basketball team also known as the Sacred Hearts will face a busy floor program this week, according to Rocco P. Viggiano, business manager of the Keys.

Tonight the Keystones will go to Youngstown to meet the strong Christ Mission team at the Christ Mission gym floor. Thursday the Keystones will face the St. Michaels at Farrell. Saturday the Tifereth Israel team will be met in Church AA league game at the "Y."

Players are asked to report not later than 7:30 o'clock tonight to make the trip to Youngstown.

Louis Will Not Meet Gastanaga

Mike Jacobs Makes Hurried Trip To Havana, And Cancels Bout

By W. S. (BILL) FARNSWORTH
International News Service Special Correspondent.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 23.—Joe Louis will not fight Izzy Gastanaga or anyone else in Havana on Feb. 2... As a matter of fact Joe Louis will never go to Havana or any other Cuban hamlet...Joe Louis wants no part of Cuba...And with this news off our pink chest we desire to tell you of the invasion of Havana by Mike Jacobs and his Twentieth Century Sporting club. Broadway's most prominent citizens, accompanied by his namesake, Yussel, arrived in Miami Wednesday afternoon...The Jacobses picked up ye editor Thursday morning and we flew to Havana...Mike and Julian Black had been in Cuba only three weeks ago to arrange for the Louis-Gastanaga match....Mike pictured what a swell town we were going to visit...about the big reception that awaited us....Mike told the truth. ...It was a swelegant reception... Six of the toughest hombres one ever set an eye on were there to protect us...They told us they were secret service men....Until we saw these little darlings Mike had only intentions of asking for a postponement of the Dec. 29 date...The six convincers changed Mike's plans entirely...The new plans were not only to keep Louis out of Havana for all time, but to get Mr. Mike Jacobs and Mr. Farnsworth back to the good old United States as fast as possible.

Talks With Captain.

Mike demanded the presence of Captain Hernandes....The captain is the close man to Colonel Batista.. and that means a lot in Cuba...Batista is the very top man in the whole i-land.

Captain Hernandes is one swell bloke...Ten years or so ago he was chauffeur of a bus on 18th avenue in Flatbush...Mike and the captain are very close buddies...But as much as Mike likes the captain he didn't confide in him that he planned to call off the fight permanently... He told the John Law that he'd like to get the fight postponed until Feb. 2...that Louis had gone stale from continuous training.

Shenango Church Games Thursday

Two games will be played Thursday night in the Shenango Township Church League at the Shenango high floor, it was announced today.

The games for Thursday will be: Castlewood vs. Harmony, Calvary vs. Savannah.

Games for Monday, December 30, will be: Calvary vs. Center, Harmony vs. Savannah. Games Jan. 6: Castlewood vs. Savannah, Harmony vs. Center.

Titans Defeat West Chester Teachers 43-24

Bennett Gets 22 Points And Willits Gets 10 Points

TITANS LEAD AT FIRST HALF 16-11

(International News Service)

Bennett looped nine field goals through the nets and scored four times from the foul mark for a total of 22 points on Saturday night when his team defeated West Chester State Teachers college 43-24.

First Defeat.

Johnny Willits, Bennett's teammate, counted three times from the field and four times from the foul mark to add 10 points to Westminster's total. The defeat was the first handed to the Teachers here this year.

Westminster held a 16-11 advantage at the end of the first half. In the second half, Bennett began scoring almost at will to make the game a walkaway affair for the invaders.

The lineup:

Westminster	Fg.	F.	Tp.
Hunneke, f	1	0	2
Krivosh, f	1	0	2
Backus, c	2	0	4

Thirty Italian Boys Have Made Football Team

Fred Marcella Compiles List Of Italian Boys On New Castle Teams

Fred Marcella, well known South Side sportsman, and athlete, today submitted a list of thirty young Italian boys who have at various times played with the New Castle High School football team.

Out of this list of thirty boys six of them became captains of the team as follows: Toscano, Tippy Richards, Harry Crisci, Mike DeCarbo, Benny Ciccone, Albert Adamo. This is a fine tribute to pay any young boy.

Har-Brack Hi Here On Friday

The next basketball game for the undefeated New Castle high "Red Hurricane" floor squad will be on Friday night at George Washington high floor when they will tackle the fast Har-Brack high passers. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

MY NEW YORK

By JAS. ASWELL

NEW YORK, Dec. 23—Interview With a Play-Reader.

Q. Your work must be fascinating working as you do for a well-known producer and helping to select the hit plays of tomorrow.

A. My work is hell—most of the time. Ninety-nine per cent of all plays written are awful and this season the scarcity of good scripts is more acute now than ever. I don't think there are ever more than a dozen first-rate playwrights working in America.

Q. How do you account for the shortage of good scripts this year?

A. The movies, I guess. People like Lillian Hellman, who wrote, "The Children's Hour," and Lawrence Riley who authored "Personal Appearance," are gobbled up by Hollywood before they are able to dash off a second play.

Q. But doesn't it give you a thrill to sit down before a pile of fresh manuscripts? In it you may find a play that will make as much money as "Abie's Irish Rose," and be hailed by the critics as wholeheartedly as "Dead End."

A. Well—maybe. I have about the same thrill as I get out of fingering a book of lottery tickets because I know I have about as much chance of finding a first-rate play as I have of picking a winning ticket on the Irish Sweepstakes.

Q. But, why, then does your boss hire you?

A. To keep from going blind. I simply pass up the plays which are not written on wrapping paper in Sanscrit characters. Those less promising I send back to the elevator boys, farmers and well-to-do housewives who wrote them on a moment's whim.

* * *

Q. You seem pretty cynical about your work. Are all play-readers like that?

A. Not all. Some of them carry around cyanide of potassium crystals to slip into the coffee of bad playwrights whose works they have had to wade through.

Q. Would you advise all young authors to eschew the writing of plays?

A. On the contrary. If they have any ability at all they should clean up, the level of ability in the profession is so low. But of course they'll go skipping off to Hollywood the moment they've written a hit. Sometimes, if I weren't too tired, when I go home nights, I'd write a play myself—the ones I read every day are so bad, on the average, that they fire my ambition.

* * *

Q. Is there any type of play that is more difficult to place with a producer than others?

A. None whatever. The belief that we won't want costume plays or historical plays or plays about anything under the sun is legend and nothing else. Naturally, we want plays which will interest the majority of the public. That's the only criterion.

Q. So many young writers believe they need an agent to get a play read by producers. Is there any truth in this?

A. None whatever. The active and reputable producers read everything that comes to hand, although they naturally show a preference for typewritten scrips since they wish to retain their eyesight. If you have a good play you don't need an agent to get it read or to sell it; I promise you that. If you have even a fair play producers will probably carry it home in their coatpockets and get it smeared with breakfast butter, and believe you me, they'll read it.

Here's How To Work Your "Rich Uncle"

NEW ATHENS, O., Dec. 23.—Asked just how he had helped support his 83-year-old uncle, John C. Henderson, whose $20,000 estate was in litigation for a week's trial to set aside his will, William R. Henderson, Cambridge, replied: "Well, I sent him a Christmas card every year."

FAYETTE

Miss Bessie Holmes spent Saturday in New Castle.

Joseph Porter is confined to his home with illness.

Mrs. Sam Miller, who is ill at her home, remains the same.

Mrs. John Buxton of New Castle spent the week-end in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Irwin of New Castle called on friends in the village Sunday evening.

Mrs. Clare Wagner and daughter Esther and Miss Helen Kepsivich were visitors in New Castle on Saturday.

Miss Pearl Wasson of the village is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Wasson of Greenfield.

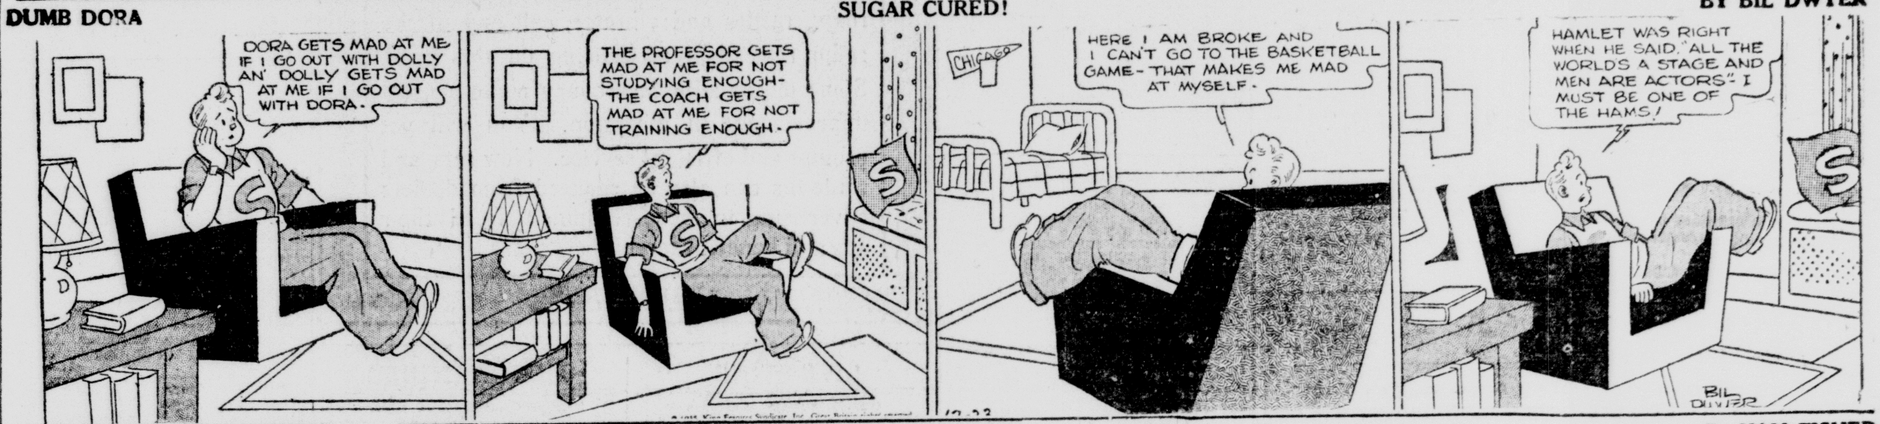

Clifford Campbell of Fayette, Charles and James Campbell, Ed Shaffer and Carl Clark of New Castle spent a few days deer hunting in Forest county. James Campbell brought home a doe.

LEGAL NOTICES

Legal Notice

In the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Penna. In the Matter of the Petition of the Borough of Ellwood City for a Rule on the Pittsburgh Company and Ray H. Aylesworth, its Receiver, their Successor's or Assigns to Bring Ejectment at No. 33 December Term, 1935. ad. D.

Notice is hereby given to The Pittsburgh Company, Ray H. Aylesworth, its Receiver, its successors or assigns, and all other persons interested, that the petition of the Borough of Ellwood City, Pennsylvania, was presented in the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County at the above number and term, setting forth that it is the owner of a small triangular tract of land situate at the Northeast intersection of Spring Avenue and Fourth street, in the Third Ward of the said Borough of Ellwood City, having a frontage of approximately forty (40) feet on the North line of Spring avenue, and eighty (80) feet on the East line of Fourth street, and bounded on the East and North by Pittsburgh Circle.

That by virtue of an agreement between the said Pittsburgh Circle and the council of the Borough of Ellwood City on or about the year 1931, the said tract of land was given to the Borough of Ellwood City for the purpose of maintaining a small public park, the Borough of Ellwood City to add thereto a larger tract of land within the lines of the Pittsburgh Circle, doing the necessary grading and planting of trees, shrubbery, etc., and later agreed that it was to be maintained as a public park, a memorial to the deceased soldiers in the World War from Ellwood City and vicinity, the said borough being in exclusive possession of the said premieses for a period of more than twenty-one years next preceding the filing of this petition.

Whereupon the court entertained the petitioin of the borough and due proof of the allegations set forth in the said petition having been made to the satisfaction of the court, a rule was thereupon granted by the court upon the Pittsburgh Company, and Ray H. Aylesworth, its Receiver, its successors and assigns, but not having been in possession for a period of twenty-one years next preceding the date of the said application, to bring its or their action in ejectment within six months from the date of the service of the said rule upon it or them, or show cause why the same cannot be so brought.

It was further decreed that service of the said rule be made upon the said parties claiming or having an apparent interest in or title to the said real estate by the sheriff of Lawrence County by publication in the New Castle News and the Ellwood City Ledger once a week for six weeks in accordance with the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided, said rule returnable to the first Monday of March, 1936.

Edward D. Pritchard, Sheriff.

Tigers To Treat Kiddies Tonight

Santa Claus To Dispense 300 Bags Filled With Goodies To Boys And Girls

Tigers clubrooms, South Mill street, will dominate the spotlight this evening at 8 o'clock, when the Tigers club will distribute 300 bags filled with candies, pop corn, fruits and other goodies, to the children of that district.

General Chairman Anthony C. Ricciardi announced today that everything is in readiness for the gala party. Led by Joseph Iacobucci, the group will sing Christmas carols upon arriving in the artistically arranged clubrooms. Santa Claus, in the person of Anthony Straw, will distribute the bags to the boys and girls.

Those in charge of the event: Anthony C. Ricciardi, general chairman; Joseph Bordonaro, James L. Scarazzo, Anthony Straw, Fred Marcella, Pat Diana, Joseph A. Ciotto, Alfonso Scarazzo, John Ross, Humbert Gianni, Peter J. Richards, Edmund D'Altorio, Anthony Petrucci, James Copple, Arthur Casacchia, Ralph Lombardo, Albert Thomas, Frank C. Summers, Albert L. School Contract Is Given Approval

FRANKLIN, Pa., Dec. 23.—The Franklin school board late Saturday approved the award of the architectural contract to Laurie and Green of Harrisburg, for Franklin's new $250,000 junior-senior high school, and decided to accept the Federal grant of $116,000 to apply on the construction of the building.

The remainder of the amount will be taken care of by a bond issue extending over a period of 30 years.

Visible Taxes Cause Of Worry

Growth Of Tax Consciousness Throughout Country Alarms New Dealers

SOCIAL SECURITY WILL ALSO ANNOY

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—New Deal members of both houses of congress are arriving in Washington, for their winter session, in a much perturbed frame of mind over the growth of tax consciousness throughout the country.

It isn't so much that taxes are high. What worries New Deal politicians is the fact that the newer forms of taxes are so plainly visible to ordinary folk, with millions of votes to cast.

Sales levies not only hurt but great numbers know what is hurting them.

* * *

TAXES BECOMING NOTICEABLE

To be sure, sales taxation, as yet, is mainly a state, not a federal, method of raising government money.

On a few commodities the buyer does, indeed, pay an impost to Uncle Sam. Such a collection is represented by the revenue stamp on a package of cigarets, for example. However, the consumer is accustomed to that extra charge and thinks nothing about it. But he is quite aware of it if his home state requires him to fork out an additional copper or two per package; that's noticeable to him. It irritates him also. It irritates still worse to be mulcted for his purchases, say, of groceries. He believes that a tax on a luxury, like cigarets, may be justifiable, but not a tax on life's absolute necessities.

* * *

STATES ANNOY MOST

Experienced politicians agree that, in the course of time, the public doubtless will become accustomed to general sales levies and submit to them as indifferently as it submits now to the federal cigaret tax.

In the course of time! No New Dealer dares to hope that the public will have arrived at this acquiescent frame of mind between now and next November—with its election day.

It is true that the most annoying forms of sales taxation thus far have been of state creation. Uncle Sam isn't responsible for the system which calls for the making of change for a five-cent drink, illustratively, inclusive of a handful of one or two-mill tokens.

But national politicians do not believe that the average citizen will distinguish between the state and federal governments. Their impression is that he will lump all taxation together and cast his ballot accordingly, alike for federal, state and still more local tickets.

* * *

ANOTHER CAUSE FOR ALARM

Big business, as we know, is hostile to the New Deal.

It isn't alone that the tax will be pretty heavy; returns will be very complicated. The small businessman, with only a handful of employes, will be put to substantial expense to account for his obligations. Oh, yes, in years he will get used to it. But between now and next November won't he be in a state of insurrection? The New Dealers are afraid of it.

* * *

G. O. P. TO BENEFIT?

Taxation discontent ,of course, plays into the hands of the party which didn't, immediately, create it, whether or not primarily responsible for it.

It will be the G. O. P.'s prime issue.

The New Dealers are fearful that it will be a strong one.

Congress, in one way or another, will talk about little else between now and its next adjournment.

L. T. McCracken was a business caller at the Freesdale farm, near Mars, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Scott Munnell, of near Mt. Herman, spent Saturday with her father, A. F. Cameron.

Miss Emma Hunt, of Volant, has returned home having spent a week with friends and relatives of this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McConahy, of Plaingrove spent Wednesday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Jennie Walton and family.

Hunters from this vicinity, who returned home with deer were Bud Dean, Wm. West, Homer Cameron, Rex and Ralph Gormley.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McFarland, and son of Rose Point, spent Tuesday with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. Harry Durnell.

James M. Hunt, student at the Moody Bible Institute, is enjoying his holiday vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hunt motored to Warren, O., Tuesday where they spent a few days with relatives and also called on Ralph Fenton, of Cortland, Ohio.

Plan For Funeral Of Senator Schall

Minnesota's Blind Senator To Be Buried On Tuesday—Speculate On Successor

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 23—While plans were being completed for the funeral services for United States Senator Thomas D. Schall, to be held tomorrow, speculation was already rife as to who his successor in the senate would be.

Gov. Floyd B. Olson, head of the State's farm--labor party and friend of the Roosevelt administration, bitterly fought and criticized by Schall, announced he would not resign the governorship to fill out the unexpired term. He had previously announced he would oppose Schall in the senatorial election in 1936.

Gov. Olson revealed he would appoint a successor to Schall in the immediate future, probably before congress re-convenes January 6. Likely appointees are said to be Frank W. Murphy of Wheaton, and chief justice John P. Devaney, of the state supreme court.

Meanwhile, Republican leaders suggested that the blind senator's widow be a candidate in the June primaries for the seat held for two terms by her husband.

Sen. Schall died in Washington yesterday of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile last Thursday. He was 58.

Firemen Repairs Toys For Kiddies

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa.—Oil City has a Santa Claus but he needs a little assistance.

Fireman M. J. Riley, who is busily engaged these days repairing toys for kiddies who will hang their stockings under the community tree, recently sent out a request for a bicycle seat.

Teachers To Meet At State Capital

Annual P. S. E. A. Convention Will Be Held During Present Week

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 23.—Several thousand public school educators will be in attendance at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association in the Forum of Education Building here on December 26-28. The association was organized in 1852.

The House of Delegates, a representative body of over 600 chosen by 280 local branches on the basis of one for 100 members, will hold two sessions to receive reports to outline polices and to conduct the annual business meeting.

Speakers for the three general sessions in the Forum of Education Building and their topics will be:

Friday afternoon, December 27, 2 o'clock: "The New Education," Lester K. Ade, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Harrisburg; "Education Moving Forward," Agnes Samuelson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Des Moines, Iowa, and president of the National Education Association; "Children For Tomorrow," Louis A. Pechstein, dean, Teachers College, University of Cincinnati.

Friday evening, 7 o'clock: "Education for Utopia," Francis P. Gaines, president, Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.; "The Function of the Schools In This Democracy," A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools and president of the National Education Association Department of Superintendence, Providence, R. I.; Honorable Hiram G. Andrews, Johnstown, chairman, Legislative Committee to Make a Survey of Public Education and Its Costs in Pennsylvania.

Saturday forenoon, 11 o'clock: "The Crisis In American Civilization," Will Durant, author and lecturer, Great Neck, N. Y.

Other speakers for the convention are: Howard A. Dawson, specialist in Rural Education, National Education Association, Washington, D. C.; J. Milnor Dorey, New York Times, New York City; Glen Gildersleeve, director of music education, State Department of Public Instruction, Dover, Del.; Samuel W. Grafflin, author and lecturer, White Plains, N. Y.; William Haskell, executive assistant to president of New York Herald-Tribune; George McCarty, head of the department of speech, State College, S. D.; John B. McDade, Department Commander, American Legion, Scranton
